Acquittal Plea In Segregation Trial Rejected

Defense Motion Denied By Judge; Four More Freed

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 18 (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge Robert L. Taylor today rejected an emotion-charged plea for a directed verdict of acquittal based on a defense contention that if the Clinton segregation trial went to the jury it would become a "cause celebre."

U.S. Dist. Atty. John C. Crawford Jr. argued that the evidence shows the remaining 10 Clinton defendants met again and again with New Jersey-born segregation leader John Kasper, 27, and conspired with him to violate a federal anti-violence injunction.

"No formal agreement is necessary to constitute a conspiracy if it is shown that the defendants acted in concert," Crawford said. The defense motion was based on contentions the government had failed in its efforts to link the numerous defendants in a common conspiracy.

In a lengthy ruling, giving careful weight to defense arguments, Taylor said he had already overruled the defense on points of law, submitted in pretrial briefs, and now the "questions of fact" must be considered by the jury.

Jury Sent Out Of Room

The jury had been sent out of the courtroom while attorneys argued the motion long and bitterly.

Taylor repeatedly emphasized that, "This court is not indicating by any means that he feels the testimony is sufficient. This is for the jury to decide."

He said in his 25-minute summation he felt the government had presented evidence that the accused had violated his injunction against interference with court-ordered integration of Clinton High School. The defendants are charged with criminal contempt.

Before the day's session began, defense lawyer Grover S. McLeod of Birmingham, Ala., told newsmen he had brought his family to Knoxville and rented a house "for the duration." He predicted that if Taylor denied the motion for a verdict of acquittal, the trial would last an additional six weeks.

"Clinton 15" Now 11

The defense motion came immediately after Crawford announced the government was dropping its charges against four more defendants—leaving only 11 of the original 16—and rested his case.

All four were among the original "Clinton 15" hailed into U.S. District Court here on charges they conspired with Kasper to violate a federal court injunction against impeding the court-ordered integration of white and Negro students at Clinton, Tenn., High School.

The four newly freed defendants are: J. L. Coley, 43, a carpenter; Chris Foust, 36, Clinton school bus driver; Thomas Sanders, 42, utility firm lineman; and John B. Long, 31, house painter.

Tanker Plane Carrying Eight Falls In Flames

BURLINGTON, Vt., July 18 (AP)—Burlington Air Force Base said tonight a KC97 refueling plane carrying a crew of eight, exploded and crashed in flames in Lake Champlain, 10 to 12 miles off Burlington.

The air base said the plane went down between Ft. Kent and Plattsburg, N.Y.

The explosion—said by some witnesses to be a series of blasts—was clearly heard in the Burlington area.

North Demos Rap Attitude Of President

Lacks Enthusiasm For Measure, Ore. Senator Declares

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore.) accused President Eisenhower today of showing "a lack of knowledge and a lack of enthusiasm" for the civil rights bill now being fought over in the Senate.

"If the legislation 'is frittered away in compromises and weakening amendments,' Neuberger declared, the President would be to blame.

Sen. Knowland of California, Republican leader, defended the President, saying nothing was to be gained by "partisan attacks."

It was the second day in a row that Northern Democrats supporting the bill have criticized Eisenhower's attitude.

The criticism came as sentiment appeared to be mounting in the Senate to limit the terms of the bill to the protection of voting rights. This could reduce to some extent the hard core of Southern Democratic opposition.

Revision Movement Grows

Knowland, a leader in the fight for civil rights legislation, already is sponsoring one change in the pending bill. Without going into details, he told newsmen today that undoubtedly other "clarifying" amendments would be offered.

Neuberger told the Senate that Eisenhower "has made infinitely more difficult the task of those who have hoped, earnestly and sincerely, that at last we were to see meaningful and effective civil rights legislation enacted."

Sen. Morse (D-Ore.) supported Neuberger with an assertion that some of Eisenhower's recent comments on civil rights were conflicting and meaningless. He didn't elaborate.

Knowland declared the responsibility for getting the bill through rested with the Senate and Congress, not the President.

Voting May Start Monday

The bill, as it now stands, would permit the attorney general to take the initiative in seeking federal court injunctions to prevent violations of civil rights.

In the case of school integration at least, Eisenhower indicated he would favor action by the attorney general only upon "request from local authorities."

Knowland said he expected the Senate to start voting Monday on the highly controversial Section 3 of the bill, which would empower the attorney general to seek injunctions for the protection of a broad field of civil rights.

An amendment has been offered by Sens. Anderson (D-NM) and Aiken (R-Vt.) to strike out this whole section. If adopted, this change would confine the new authority proposed for the attorney general to the protection of voting rights.

Storm Threatens

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, July 18 (AP)—The Weather Bureau here reported today a large area of squally weather has developed in the Atlantic about 400 miles east-southeast of Trinidad with "some evidence of a weak circulation."

The bureau warned interests in the Windward Islands to watch for further information later today as a precautionary measure.

Airliner Said Toting Bomb Lands Safely

BOSTON, July 18 (AP)—An Air France transatlantic liner, bound for Europe, radioed tonight she had a bomb aboard, then turned back and landed safely at Logan Airport here.

The liner was out of New York's Idlewild Airport.

She was believed to have a capacity load, about 70 passengers.

Two Coast Guard aircraft out of Salem, Mass., and Quonset Point, R.I., intercepted her about 80 miles east of Cape Cod and escorted her the rest of the way to Boston.

The Coast Guard said the liner was "well east of the Texas tower," or about 140 miles off Cape Cod, when she swung back. The Texas tower, an Air Force radar installation, is on Georges Bank about 110 miles east of the cape.

After landing, the plane was kept at the far end of the landing strip—away from the administration building.

FBI, Massachusetts state police and customs men hastened to search it.

The Coast Guard, lacking definite details of the assumed bomb hazard, prepared for any eventuality. Surface craft in the Boston area from Nahant north of Logan Airport to Provincetown on Cape Cod were alerted.

Port of New York Authority police at Idlewild Airport said two other Air France planes had been directed to land for examination of cargo and baggage.

Hoffa Case Goes To Jury Today

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—The month-old bribery-conspiracy trial of Teamsters Union leader James R. Hoffa will go to a federal court jury tomorrow.

As lawyers summed up their arguments today, they asked the jury to decide whether Hoffa was a victim of some plotting by the Senate Rackets Committee or had schemed himself to spy on that group.

U. S. Dist. Judge Burnita S. Matthews said she would spend about an hour instructing the jury tomorrow before giving it the case.

In final arguments today, the prosecutor, Asst. U. S. Atty. Edward P. Troxell, said Hoffa and Miami attorney Hyman I. Fischbach "cooked up a scheme to subvert and destroy the usefulness of the Senate Rackets Committee."

But Hoffa's attorney, Edward Bennett Williams, told the jury the committee itself planted "some seeds" in the mind of lawyer John Cye Chesty to make him accuse Hoffa of bribery.

Hoffa and Fischbach are accused of bribing Chesty to get a job with the Senate committee in order to get Hoffa confidential information on its operations.

U.S. Pins Miss Universe Hopes On Baltimore Girl

LONG BEACH, Calif., July 18 (AP)—A slim-stemmed Baltimore brunette competes with 32 foreign beauties in the Miss Universe contest tonight after winning the Miss United States title rags-to-riches style.

Statuesque Leona Mary Gage, 21-year-old model who came here as Miss Maryland, had but $2 to her name when she was named loveliest of 44 American entrants.

The field in the international beauty contest will be cut to 15 tonight and Miss Universe will be named tomorrow night.

Miss Gage—at 5 feet 9½ inches the tallest Miss U.S.A. ever—weighs 118 and has these vital statistics: 36-23-36. She has clear hazel eyes that tend to change color with the clothes she wears. She is regal, quiet—even somewhat aloof. And she's "not man-struck—I'm not marrying until I'm 26."

The raven-haired queen with the glowing smile won with a "go-for-broke" gamble involving her pretty 24-year-old cousin and a $45 gown.

Two months ago, she and her cousin Barbara Gage, with whom she lives in the Baltimore suburb of Glen Burnie, pooled their savings of $45 so Leona could buy a dress to enter the contest. They found one bought down from $90 to $45 and marked it—and Leona won.

Leona's father is dead and her mother is now Mrs. Walter Briggs of Dallas.

Miss Gage's financial worries are over for a while. Her prizes as Miss U.S.A. include a $2,000 contract to tour for a cosmetics firm, and a house trailer. She's hoping for a movie career.

Outlook Better For Arms Pact, British Report

LONDON, July 18 (AP)—Britain declared in an official statement today the prospects for a partial disarmament treaty have "materially improved" in the past four months.

"It is true to say that substantial advances have been made in the present discussions," the government said in a report to Parliament on the work of the United Nations Disarmament subcommittee.

The White Paper pointed out, however, that many obstacles still must be overcome before any kind of a disarmament treaty can be signed.

"There is still a considerable divergence between Western and Soviet views on what a partial agreement should contain," it declared.

The White Paper represented an official summing up, for the benefit of Parliament, of what has been going on in the 51 private meetings of the five-nation Disarmament subcommittee since the present session opened March 18.

Its publication followed repeated demands by the Labor party for more information, and was expected to form the basis of an early debate on the government's disarmament policies. Labor spokesmen frequently have criticized the government's stand on disarmament matters. Particularly, they have protested its refusal to agree to an early and unconditional suspension of hydrogen bomb tests.

The issue of halting nuclear tests was one of several items in which the White Paper spelled out the present state of agreement—and disagreement—between Russia and the four other members of the U. N. subcommittee, Britain, France, Canada and the United States.

It said there is agreement on the principle that tests should be halted, just as there is agreement in principle on reducing conventional armies and armaments, military budgets and zones of aerial and ground inspection. But the paper noted deep differences of opinion on how the test suspension should be carried out.

Ike Plans Newport Vacation In August

NEWPORT, R.I. July 18 (AP)—President and Mrs. Eisenhower probably will come here in mid-August and remain for three or four weeks, James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary said today.

Hagerty said dates of the President's trip here will depend largely on Congress.

"I'll stick my neck out and say the President will stay between three and four weeks and I'll stick my neck out again and say it might not be possible for him to get here before the second week in August," he said.

Hagerty and his aides conferred with Mayor John J. Sullivan and newsmen in the City Council chamber.

Jet Crash Sets 6 Houses Afire

Two Pilots Killed, No Civilians Hurt

WORCESTER, Mass., July 18 (AP)—A jet trainer plane, spinning out of control, crashed and exploded on a quiet tree-lined residential street today, scattering wreckage which set six houses afire and killed the two flyers aboard.

Although several persons were on the street and housewives were busy in their homes, no civilians were injured.

Two of the houses were badly damaged despite the efforts of occupants to control the flames until firefighters arrived.

The plane was attached to the 133rd Air National Guard at Greiner Air Force Base, Manchester, N.H. It was one of a flight of three on a training mission.

Witnesses told of the plane bouncing "as high as a house" before exploding, spewing flaming fuel over a wide area. The craft was seen "rolling and circling" before it pitched earthward in a wild spin.

Brig. Gen. Francis B. McSwiney, adjutant of the New Hampshire ANG, said it was the first accident for the organization in 100 years.

Mail carrier Frieland C. Peltier, "whose home is in suburban North Oxford, stood waiting for a bus opposite one of the houses—which was set afire moments later.

"The roar as the plane came down was terrific," he said. "I was standing opposite 100 Forest St. I heard the terrible roar and looked up and there was the plane coming down."

"It came down not far from me, bounced twice into the air—the first time as high as the nearest house—and then exploded. It showered fuel and flames on the houses. But it did not burn until it hit the ground the second time. Then it exploded."

Four miles away, on a hill, patrolman Robert Thyden saw three planes maneuvering in the sky. Suddenly, one plunged downward in a steep dive.

Fire and police vehicles summoned to the scene, found wreckage flung all along the street—and even in Indian Lake well beyond the street.

Six houses were afire and above, vapor trails still hung in the air, in the early afternoon sunshine.

"I was ironing," Mrs. Joseph E. Hannigan said as she stood beside her 14-year-old son, Billy, with a garden hose, trying to fight fire in draperies in the ground-floor rooms of her home.

"I heard the plane flying very low and I thought it was headed toward us. It passed over our home and exploded and set our house on fire. I ran to the telephone and called the operator and asked her to call the police and fire department and tell them a plane had crashed."

"She asked me to hold the line but I said I couldn't, my house was on fire."

"I ran to the front room where Billy had been watching TV. He had been knocked from his chair. I found him under a table. He doesn't know how he got there."

Committees Back Federal Pay Boosts

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—House and Senate committees both approved multimillion-dollar pay raise bills for federal workers today despite an administration protest that this would feed inflation.

Pressure for the politically popular measures built up with:

1. A House Post Office and Civil Service Committee's approval, 14-10, of an 11 per cent increase in the salaries of some one million federal employees covered by civil service. The bill would cost an estimated $32 million dollars a year.

2. A Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee's approval of a 7½ per cent across-the-board increase for the civil servants, at a cost of $48 million dollars a year.

3. The Senate committee's okay of a 7½ per cent pay increase, plus some upward cost-of-living adjustments, for half a million postal workers. The expense was figured at 270 million dollars a year.

The two witnesses appeared before a House Government Operations subcommittee which set out primarily to investigate advertising claims made for filter cigarettes.

Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond of the American Cancer Society testified "the evidence is overwhelming that cigarette smoking is a causative factor of great importance in the occurrence of lung cancer."

"This does not imply," he added, "that smoking is the only cause of lung cancer."

Dr. Clarence Cook Little, of the Tobacco Industry Research Committee, testified on the other hand: "Nonsmokers get lung cancer. The vast majority of heavy smokers never get lung cancer. Obviously, there is no simple cause and effect mechanism resulting from cigarette smoking."

Neither Dr. Hammond nor Dr. Little had any opinions to express on the health value of filter tips. Much of Dr. Hammond's testi-

Newsman Cool To Dulles Offer On China Travel

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles offered today to ease a government ban on travel to Red China to allow "a limited number" of newsmen to go there for a six-month trial period.

Dulles' offer, however, clearly failed to satisfy five news executives who discussed the problem with him for 95 minutes.

They insisted that Dulles should not seek to limit the number of reporters who visit Red China to report first-hand to the American people.

The main result of the meeting was a State Department decision to check with American newspapers, news services, magazines, and radio-television organizations to find out how many want to send reporters to Red China.

This survey was decided upon after a disagreement developed in the meeting over the number of reporters who would want to go behind the Bamboo Curtain.

Dulles was quoted as believing "everybody will be trooping over there." William Dwight, president of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn., who attended the meeting, said the news executives disagreed with this Dulles view.

"Economics will be an automatic check," Dwight said.

Dulles, flanked by Undersecretary Christian Herter and two other top officials, made his offer "in principle" to allow some newsmen to travel to Red China.

Andrew Berding, assistant secretary of state for public affairs, who reported the Dulles offer afterward, stressed that no specific plan was presented but that Dulles discussed "various suggestions."

Algiers Bombs Kill 4

ALGIERS, July 18 (AP)—Five bombs went off about the same time early tonight in widely separated parts of Algiers, killing two persons and injuring four. The blasts were blamed on Nationalist rebels.

Congressional Group Hears Clashing Views On Cigarets And Lung Cancer

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—The argument over the relationship between cigarette smoking and lung cancer was renewed today before a congressional committee.

Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond of the American Cancer Society testified "the evidence is overwhelming that cigarette smoking is a causative factor of great importance in the occurrence of lung cancer."

"This does not imply," he added, "that smoking is the only cause of lung cancer."

Dr. Clarence Cook Little, of the Tobacco Industry Research Committee, testified on the other hand: "Nonsmokers get lung cancer. The vast majority of heavy smokers never get lung cancer. Obviously, there is no simple cause and effect mechanism resulting from cigarette smoking."

14, Including 9 Army Men, Under Arrest

Allegedly Planned To Kill President, All His Cabinet

CAIRO, July 18 (AP)—Egypt's Middle East News Agency tonight announced the arrests of nine army officers and five civilians on charges of plotting to assassinate President Nasser and all his Cabinet.

The expose of alleged plotting to seize the government by violence came as the Nasser regime prepared to celebrate the anniversary of the revolutionary uprising of July 23-26, 1952, that deposed and exiled King Farouk.

Rumors in the past few weeks have indicated that an announcement of arrests might take an anti-American line in attempting to place blame for plotting on the United States.

Tonight's preliminary announcement did not mention any foreign powers involved in the plot, however.

Plot Leader Identified

The leader of the plot was alleged to be Dr. Mohamed Salah el Din, one of Egypt's most able legal minds. He has been a specialist in foreign affairs throughout his professional career.

He is a former foreign minister with many friends in Cairo's American community but in public life he had a record of being more anti-Western than Nasser.

It was Salah el Din who, as foreign minister, unilaterally abrogated the British-Egyptian treaty although Nasser chose to negotiate its termination.

The announcement said the arrests were made in April and that the plotting had gone on for more than a year.

The agency's announcement of the arrests was considered tantamount to official confirmation of the arrests, which have been generally known for some weeks.

Military Trial Arranged

The announcement said an eight-man military court, under the presidency of Gen. Mohamed Foad el Digwy, has been formed to try the accused men. No trial date was mentioned.

Gen. Digwy has been interrogating the accused men since their arrest, the agency said.

Abdel Fattah Hassan, former defense minister, was among those arrested.

Both Hassan and Salah el Din served in Wafd party governments headed by former Prime Minister Mustafa Nahas. It was the last government based on a parliamentary majority in Egypt, formed after the Wafd won a sweeping victory in the 1950 general elections.

The announcement said a secret antigovernment military organization was headed by Brig. Gen. Ahmed Atif Nasser.

Crews Struggle To Plug Gaping Hole In Big Dam

CAPULIN, Colo., July 18 (AP)—Bulldozers tore dirt from a mountainside today to plug a house-sized hole in a crumbling terrace reservoir dam.

A break in the 17,000-acre-foot dam would send a wall of water roaring into this town of 300 and farms below Alamosa Creek Canyon in southwest Colorado.

Rain which fell during the day handicapped workers and added to pressure on the 45-year-old earthen dam.

Residents of this town took safety on high ground. Part of Lajara's residents had fled and others were poised to evacuate, Mayor Raymond W. Braiden said.

He estimated about 1,000 persons, including farmers in the valley, were in the path of a flood if the dam should give way.

All have been given ample warning, he said.

Five bulldozers ripped at the nearby mountainside and pushed dirt into the reservoir along the upstream face of the dam.

Braiden said the leak was near the valve house toward the south end of the structure. This hole, he added, is about 50 feet below the water line.

Valves have been opened to permit water to escape at a maximum 1,000 cubic feet a second.

Acting Gov. Frank Hays of Colorado flew to the scene from Denver. Gov. Steve McNichols was in Texas on business.

AFL-CIO Sets New Teamster, Bakery Worker Hearings

Two Unions Face Possible Ouster From Federation

WASHINGTON, July 18 (P)—The AFL-CIO today ordered new hearings looking toward possible ouster of the Teamsters and Bakery Workers unions from the parent federation on grounds they are corruptly dominated.

Al G. Hayes, chairman of the federation's Ethical Practices Committee, scheduled the hearings for July 31 for the Bakers and Aug. 1 for the Teamsters.

The hearings were reportedly called to give the group a chance to compile a record and make a report to the AFL-CIO Executive Council, which is due to meet Aug. 11 in Chicago.

The council, in turn, is expected to lay down a "clean-up or get out" ultimatum to both unions. Federation officials have indicated that by cleanup they mean the ouster of officials criticized in Senate racket hearings.

One of those already on his way out is President Dave Beck of the 1½ million-member Teamsters Union, the labor organization most investigated so far by the committee headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark).

Beck, accused of misusing more than $300,000 of Teamsters' funds, has been indicted by federal and state grand juries. He has announced he will retire as Teamsters president this fall. He has already been ousted as an AFL-CIO officer.

Beck invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions about the charges against him at the Senate hearings. His refusal to testify violates an AFL-CIO code.

There are other Teamsters officials whose handling of union funds has been questioned by both the Senate committee and the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee.

As for the Bakers Union, President James G. Cross answered Senate committee questions. He classified charges against him as "inconsequential" although senators found them "substantial."

Cross was accused of misuse of union funds. Among other things, it was alleged that a girl friend of his was on the union's payroll as an organizer. Senators said their Bakery Union study showed Cross completely dominated the union.

McKay Named To IJC By Ike

WASHINGTON, July 18 (P)—Former Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay was appointed by President Eisenhower today to the International Joint Commission representing the United States and Canada. The job pays $20,000 a year and is of indefinite duration.

McKay, who left Eisenhower's Cabinet last year to campaign unsuccessfully for the Senate seat of Sen. Morse (D-Ore), succeeds former Gov. Len Jordan of Idaho, resigned.

Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore) called McKay's appointment "incredible." Neuberger said he was "dismayed" that the former interior secretary was picked for a post with responsibility for negotiating an agreement with Canada to increase the capacity of federal power system on the Columbia River.

"The incredible choice of Mr. McKay for this key post, after last year's decisive repudiation in the Pacific Northwest of the resources and power policies with which he became identified," Neuberger said, "points up the need for action on my recommendation of last year that appointments to the International Joint Commission at least should be subject to Senate confirmation."

McKay was appointed to the IJC to represent the United States and Canada. The job pays $20,000 a year and is of indefinite duration.

Cairo Reports Saudi Arabia Fortifying Gulf

CAIRO, July 18 (P)—The newspaper Al Kahira reported from Jidda today that Saudi Arabia has begun fortifying the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba.

The Gulf is Israel's only means of access from the Red Sea to its growing port of Eilat. Egyptian gun positions at the entrance were silenced by the Israelis in their invasion of Sinai last fall and the old gun sites have been under observation of the U. N. Emergency Force.

Israeli shipping recently has used the Gulf without being molested.

Al Kahira is the Cairo newspaper considered to have access to the most reliable sources in the Saudi government. Its Jidda report said the Saudis are placing guns at the Gulf entrance "since Israel has not stopped its acts of provocation in those waters" despite seven Saudi protests to the United Nations.

The Saudi government found these complaints produced no effective results," Al Kahira said, "and the American government continued to speak of Israeli rights of navigation in the Gulf. Secretary of State Dulles has referred to presenting the issue to the world Court, but did not specify whether this would be a quick consultation or would take the shape of a dispute after Israeli aggression had actually taken place in Arab territorial waters."

In the face of these developments, the paper said, the Saudi government "considered it its duty to be ready to face any eventualities and so declared officially it will meet Israeli aggression on its waters by all means of defense."

Teamster Strike Against Railway Express Settled

NEW YORK, July 18 (P)—An 88-day Teamsters strike against the Railway Express Agency in seven major cities was settled today.

The settlement was announced by Francis A. O'Neill, chairman of the National Mediation Board. He said that some 3,500 Teamsters will return to work at 12:01 a.m. Monday in Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Newark, Philadelphia, St. Louis and San Francisco. Embargoes on shipments to the seven cities directly affected and adjacent areas were lifted immediately.

The strike started April 21. Terms of the new contract provide for a total wage increase of 29 cents an hour for the drivers; this includes 15 cents now retroactive to Jan. 16, 1956, when the old contract expired, 7 cents next Nov. 1, and another 7 cents on Nov. 1, 1958. The contract also contains an escalator clause. The union had sought an increase of 30 cents an hour. Pre-strike wages ranged from $1.56 to $2.21 an hour.

Klenert Pledges To Support UTW Cleanup Drive

WASHINGTON, July 18 (P)—The secretary-treasurer of the United Textile Workers, accused of using union funds to finance a swank home, promised Senate racketeers today to back a clean-up campaign in the union.

Lloyd Klenert, UTW secretary-treasurer since 1944, testified he would work for elimination of the practice of lending union funds to union officers, employees and staff members on any terms. He said he expects the matter of reforms to come up soon at a meeting of the UTW Executive Board.

The promise followed considerable prodding by members of the special Senate committee looking into alleged labor-management abuses. But in the end it came out in clear-cut fashion from the poised, ever-polite Klenert—after Sen. Ives (R-NY) told him: "You haven't any business doing what you have been doing and you know it."

The promise also followed testimony of committee investigator Alphonse Calabrese that $57,000 of union dues applied to the purchase of homes for Klenert and UTW president Anthony Valente was put down in union books as "organizing expenses." The homes are in a Washington suburb. Klenert's cost $52,500 and Valente's cost $42,500.

Klenert wasn't asked whether the $57,000 represented misuse of union funds, whether it was a union loan, or whether he actually got part of it. He did say he borrowed $1,000 from the union to clinch the deal on his house.

The committee will question him again tomorrow, and possibly Valente.

Armed Man Robs Bank At Arlington

ARLINGTON, Va., July 18 (P)—A man held up a branch of the Clarendon Trust Co. today and escaped with an estimated $10,000 to $15,000.

He fled in an automobile in which an accomplice was waiting. Police said the man—described as tall, white, and wearing blue trousers and a white shirt—entered the bank about 1:30 p.m., brandished a gun, and said: "This is a stickup."

He then shoved a paper bag at a cashier and demanded that it be filled with money. The cashier complied, and the bandit dashed out the door. A bank janitor gave chase until the man reached the waiting car about a block away.

Britain To Increase Postage Charges

LONDON, July 18 (P)—Postage charges in Britain will be increased Oct. 1. Postmaster General Ernest Marples told the House of Commons today. He said it is necessary to increase revenues by 42 million pounds—117 million dollars—annually, mostly to pay wage increases.

The cost of mailing an ordinary letter will go from about 3 cents to about 3½ cents. Telephone rates also are being increased.

Cultist Facing Nuisance Charge

DETROIT, July 18 (P)—Sweet Daddy Grace is having legal trouble with his neighbors. One hundred and thirty-seven of them claim his baptism services at the United House of Prayer for All People are a shade too boisterous. Residents of the west side Detroit neighborhood in which Sweet Daddy Grace's church is located object to services conducted over loudspeakers mounted on trucks, midnight bugle blasts, drum beating, mass applause—and firehose baptisms outside.

The 78-year-old Negro cultist has been ordered to appear in court July 26 to defend himself on a nuisance charge.

Treasury Offers Higher Interest On Securities

WASHINGTON, July 18 (P)—The Treasury offered today a 4 per cent interest rate—highest since the deep depression years—for a 24 billion-dollar offering of government securities.

The exchange offer followed a consultation yesterday by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and his soon-to-be successor, Robert B. Anderson, with President Eisenhower.

To holders of several securities maturing Aug. 1, Aug. 15 and Oct. 1 Humphrey offered a choice of these issues:

A 4 per cent one-year Treasury certificate of indebtedness;

A 3½ per cent certificate maturing in four months, on Dec. 1; or

A 4 per cent Treasury note maturing in four years but cashable if the holder desires in two years—on Aug. 1, 1959.

A Treasury spokesman, in response to questions on the high interest rates offered in comparison with those on the maturing securities, told newsmen: "These are the lowest rates at which we thought we could sell government securities of these maturities."

The maturing securities include a $12,056,000,000 issue of one-year Treasury notes carrying 2½ per cent; a $3,792,000,000 issue of two and one-half year notes maturing Aug. 15 and carrying 2 per cent; a $7,271,000,000 issue of 10-month certificates maturing Oct. 1 and carrying 4½ per cent interest; and an $24-million-dollar issue of notes maturing Oct. 1 and carrying 1½ per cent interest.

Only a 16-billion-dollar offering had been expected today. But the Treasury decided to throw in the securities maturing in October together with those maturing in August. That means the Treasury will not have to go into the financial markets again this year.

World's Largest Land Plane To Go On Auction Block

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 18 (P)—The XC99, world's largest land based plane, has been declared excess and will be sold to the highest bidder, the Air Force announced today.

The cargo plane will be put on sale after it goes through reclamation at Kelly Air Force Base for the removal of classified equipment. Rising operating costs and difficulty of logistical support were given as the reasons for retiring the XC99.

Air Force officials said that because it was the only plane of its kind ever built it required special parts and that the cost of those parts increased as the plane aged.

Since it was accepted by the Air Force in 1950, crews at Kelly have flown it 1,486,000 miles equal to 59 trips around the world. It is 180 feet long, has a wingspread of 230 feet and stands 57 feet high.

1,600 Will Board Leyte For Dinner

ANNAPOLIS, July 18 (P)—The aircraft carrier Leyte is due to anchor off here tomorrow and stand by to take on 1,600 boarders Saturday night for the annual USO GI Pal Dinner.

The affair for 800 servicemen and their 800 civilian hosts is sponsored by the Baltimore USO, but the carrier will anchor off Annapolis because she is too tall to pass under the Chesapeake Bay Bridge.

The dinner is staged annually as a symbol to the 70,000 GI's who use the USO weekly for recreation headquarters that they are welcome in the city.

But this is the first time the banquet will be served on the deck of a carrier.

Each man or woman who buys a ticket to the dinner is host for the evening to a service man or woman.

Sen. Johnson Doggedly Oils Senatorial Waters In Civil Rights Tempest

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—Offhand, Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Johnson City, Tex., looks like a man in a tough spot.

Here he is, captain of the Democrats in the Senate, but instead of playing the Republicans, his teammates are battling each other.

For the civil rights issue, as usual, has cut the Democrats in two. That vote Tuesday on whether to make a civil rights bill the order of business furnishes a fine example.

Twenty-eight Democrats marched with Johnson to take up the bill, and 18 Democrats, all from the South, marched resolutely off in the other direction. Forty-two Republicans, having no Southern senators, lined up solidly for taking up civil rights legislation.

But if all this worries Johnson, he doesn't show it outwardly. At 48, he's a big, trim man, 6 feet 3, and weighing, since his heart attack two years ago, 185 pounds.

Johnson ambles in and out of the Senate chamber as if he had no more pressing worries than, say, whether we should have a postage stamp to honor miners.

Others may take the floor to say this nation can wait no longer to assure civil rights for all its citizens. Still others say it is a step backward, and that this is the South's darkest hour since Reconstruction days.

Johnson has saved most of his civil rights talking for the cloak-rooms, where compromises are made.

When he gets up to talk, what does he say? He praises both sides for the fine job they're doing.

The nice thing about an explosive issue to a politician is that if it's handled right it can blow a man right into the White House. Or, if it's handled wrong, it can tear a political future to bits.

Since the Senate is filled with possible presidents, it will be interesting to watch them as the civil rights fight goes along: Vice President Nixon, who may be called upon, as presiding officer, for some tough decisions on procedure; Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.), leading the pro-civil rights, and others.

But no man is more interesting than Lyndon Johnson, handling his divided team.

If he can come up with something that, even though it makes nobody real happy makes nobody real mad either, if some kind of a bridge can be built across a wide and turbulent stream, if—well, who knows? Politics is a funny business.

Right now, Johnson is methodically oiling the senatorial waters. Look at the record, and Johnson's honeyed words to his colleagues:

Tuesday, July 9—"The debate has been first rate, a good omen for the future."

Wednesday, July 10—"I wish to commend the members of the Senate for the high level of discussion which has taken place up to now."

Thursday, July 11—"Thus far the debate has been conducted on a very high plane, free from rancor and free from bitterness."

Friday, July 12—"I am proud of the Senate. Not only have the speeches been on high calibre, but—"

Saturday, July 13—"I am very proud of the very tolerant and objective manner in which senators have spoken."

Tuesday—"I have confidence in the Senate."

Whether this will continue to work, no one can say. But Capt. Lyndon Johnson is in there trying.

Water Line Breaks

NEW YORK, July 18 (AP)—City officials blame a recent spurge of broken water mains, averaging about one a day, on settlement of the ground. The breaks have disinterested to watch them as the civil rights fight goes along: Vice

Airlines Adopt Ticket Reconfirmation Rule

By VERN HAUGHLAND

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—The airlines put a new ticket reconfirmation rule into effect on a nationwide basis this week.

By general agreement—and with the approval of the Civil Aeronautics Board—they declared that when a passenger travels from one city to another and stays overnight or longer, he must reconfirm his reservation before continuing his trip by air or returning by air.

Should the passenger fail to do this, his reservation will be canceled six hours before departure time and the airplane seat made available to someone else.

The new rule does not apply, however, if the passenger makes a stopover of less than 12 hours, even though the stopover is overnight.

The requirement, carefully outlined by ticket agents to each person buying a ticket, is the second part of a three-stage program to eliminate the "no-show" problem—one of the most expensive headaches in the airline business.

Persons who make airline reservations and later change their plans without bothering to cancel their reserved space cost the airlines several million dollars annually in unused seats—and dis-appoint many travelers who are unable to get aboard the flights they want.

The first step in the long-range program was taken last June 1, when the airlines adopted the requirement that a passenger must pick up his ticket before a time limit specified by the individual airline.

The third phase will go into effect Sept. 15 when the airlines will start charging a $3 penalty for each passenger who fails to use his reservation or fails to cancel it in advance.

White House Office Expansion Plan Gets Endorsement By Ike

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—President Eisenhower urged Congress yesterday to give "the most serious consideration" to a study commission's plans to provide more White House office space.

In identical letters to Vice President Nixon, the Senate's presiding officer, and Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex.), Eisenhower called attention to the commission's report submitted to him in May.

It called for razing the old State-War-Navy Building adjoining the White House, and for construction of a new presidential office building on that site.

The commission also endorsed a plan for construction of still another office building, just across Pennsylvania Avenue from the White House, and for conversion of the West Wing of the White House to a government guest residence. The West Wing now houses the President's office and quarters for some of his staff.

The commission estimated the cost of the program it recommended at $32,350,000.

North Carolina claims to maintain more highway mileage than does any other state in the Union.

Adenauer, At 81, In Top Shape For Election Fight

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

BONN, Germany, July 18 (AP)—Intimates said today Konrad Adenauer, at 81, is in excellent physical condition and "fine fighting spirit" for West Germany's no-holds-barred election campaign. The outcome will decide whether he gets a third term as chancellor.

Adenauer is giving up a summer vacation to lead the fight by his conservative government against the challenge of the Socialists, who are already sniping at him as "a tottering old man."

The Chancellor laughed and conceded he is old, but said, "I can take on many Socialist youngsters."

His chief rival for control of the federal Parliament to be elected

Sept. 15 is Socialist leader Erich Ollenhauer, 56, chubby, pink-cheeked and exuding good health. Ollenhauer has put himself down to speak at 65 rallies over the country in the next two months on behalf of the Socialist platform, which features opposition to German rearmament.

Adenauer, who led the Bonn Republic into NATO, won't quite match that, but plans to speak at 35 rallies.

He has had eight tough years in office. A serious illness followed his landslide victory in 1953. In the campaign four years ago he traveled by train for as long as a week at a time, often speaking several times daily. While determined to spearhead this new campaign, he is having to depend more than before on his subordinates.

His Christian Democrats, the largest party in the present Parliament, are concentrating on the last six weeks.

An unusual amount of campaign publicity is being given to other members of Adenauer's government. Figures such as Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard, credited with masterminding economic recovery; Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano, an intellectual from an old German family; and Defense Minister Josef Strauss, a dynamic Bavarian and, at 41, the youngest member of the Cabinet, are being built up as "the men around Adenauer."

Observers see two reasons for this changed emphasis:

1. These men can take some of the load off the elderly Chancellor.

2. It is an answer to Socialist charges that Adenauer runs a one-man government.

Bette Davis Cracks Vertebra In Plunge

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif., July 18 (AP)—Actress Bette Davis opened a door in her new house and plunged 12 feet into the basement, fracturing a vertebra, her sister said yesterday.

Mrs. Barbara Berry said this happened two weeks ago while Miss Davis was inspecting her new home in Los Angeles' Brentwood district. The actress is now up and around again, Mrs. Berry said.

Miss Davis, estranged from actor Gary Merrill, was inspecting the home and, thinking she was entering a closet, stepped through a door that led to the cellar.

When Marilyn Monroe became the wife of playwright Arthur Miller, she decided to join the Jewish faith. The rabbi gave her a Jewish Biblical name, a name known only to the rabbi and Marilyn.

Unstereotyped Southern Congressman Heads House Inquiry Into Supreme Court Decisions

By EDMOND LE BRETON

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—An unstereotyped Southerner with a trace of French accent and a reputation as a lawyer's lawyer heads a congressional inquiry now being organized into recent Supreme Court decisions.

Rep. Edwin E. Willis (D-La.) emphasizes on every possible occasion that the job he is supervising is just that—and not "an investigation of the court."

The stocky, 52-year-old congressman with the short-cropped graying hair does his parliamentary work vigorously but at low emotional pressure.

Typically, he organized his views on what some of his colleagues call the Supreme Court crisis in 1-2-3 order:

Not deliberately, but in effect, he said, the court is usurping power.

"It is evident from the reaction in Congress that laws are being given effects not intended for them," he told an interviewer. "In the past, when there was an imbalance of power, it was either because of a strong president—like you think of Jackson or either of the Roosevelts—or because Congress pushed ahead when the powers of the presidency were not vigorously being used.

"But in either case, the balance was restored by the other elected branch, by the people acting either through Congress or the president.

"We have no real precedent for an imbalance in favor of the third branch, the court. What do we do in such a case?"

Willis showed no enthusiasm for some proposals already made in Congress to clip the court's wings quickly by constitutional amendment.

"First," he said, "the Senate should and I think will make fuller use of its power to grant or withhold consent to appointments. It will consider the philosophy, ability and judicial temperament of persons nominated to the Supreme Court."

"No presidential appointments now are rejected except for politics—that's a bad use of the 'advice and consent' power; it could just as readily be used well. But of course this is a long-range matter."

The second job to be done, Willis said, is the sort assigned to his subcommittee, but on a continuing basis: "Congress will have to study the decisions handed down to see whether they are consistent with its own legislative intentions and make whatever adjustments are necessary."

Only after these possibilities have been fully developed, Willis said, should Congress consider "constitutional reform"—and he added quickly, "I'm not advocating it; I'm only saying that would be the point at which it might be discussed."

His Judiciary subcommittee opens hearings Thursday. It was set up early this month to inquire into the court's much-debated decisions on antisubversive laws, congressional investigations, FBI records, prompt arraignment of prisoners, and other matters.

In his nine years in Congress Willis has worked at such tasks as chairmanship of the virtually cloistered subcommittee on Revision of Laws. He likes putting laws in order—maybe because I was brought up on the Napoleonic code." Louisiana alone among the states uses a code based on the tidy, all-inclusive French civil law structure.

Federation Condemns Coercion

As president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. R. I. C. Prout, of Wakefield, Mich., and Washington, sent a letter to President Eisenhower, to bring to his attention the stand of the federation on its policy of "Self Determination of People."

Enclosing the federation's original resolution and a copy of the amendment to that resolution, Mrs. Prout pointed out that "In the last United Nations Assembly, the partition of Cyprus was mentioned. In our opinion, such a partition would be setting a dangerous precedent for all other areas of the world where minorities might present a similar problem which could be equally wrought with grave peril and even lead to war."

We respectfully urge you in whatever way possible to prevent the partition of Cyprus, if such a question should arise in any way. We also firmly believe that in the present condition of world affairs the only and surest way to peace is through liberty and contented peoples."

"The original resolution passed at Philadelphia Convention 1955: WHEREAS, it is the high mission of the United States to be a witness to the worth of freedom and democracy and to remain the patient friend of peoples who are determined to exercise a free choice as to the government under which they shall live, and WHEREAS, it is the policy of the United States to encourage efforts towards self-government which are truly expressive of the desires of a people which had demonstrated its capability to establish and protect free institutions, therefore RESOLVED, That the General Federation of Women's Clubs in convention assembled, May 1955, declares its belief in the inherent right of people to self-determination and supports application of that principle under the auspices of the United Nations."

"Amendment to the resolution passed at Asheville Convention 1957: BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the General Federation of Women's Clubs strongly condemns the use of mental or physical brutality and/or coercion on the part of an occupying power against a people seeking freedom."

Mrs. Blanche Poole, is recuperating at her home, Roberts Street extended, after being a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital.

Mrs. Charles Meister, 800 Yale Street, has returned home after being a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital.

Billy Graham's Crusade Brings New Religious Current To New York

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

NEW YORK, July 18 (AP)—A religious current that didn't exist before is moving through New York City as a result of Billy Graham's crusade. And it's not just in the churches.

Its size, influence and potentialities still are matters of opinion in this metropolis of millions. But evidence abounds that it has come into being.

The statistics, for a religious event, are unprecedented. But they're only part of the picture.

You catch its more human side in the observations of New Yorkers whose ears are close to the throb and beat of the city's life—its pastors, its cab drivers, night club owners and entrepreneurs.

As gathered from some of them, there's a new element afoot, often in places where you'd least expect it, a new religious undertone in the cosmopolitan conversation.

"There's no question about it," said Peter Kriendler, manager of 21 Club, an exclusive midtown rendezvous for celebrities and socialites. "He (Graham) has made religion a major item of table talk."

"He's touched many of the people that come here. They have dinner and then go over and listen to him with bated breath. A lot of them now have got their minds on something worthwhile."

Broadway columnist Frank Farrell said the evangelist has caused "a reaction backstage that is amazing. Quite a number of chorus girls and show people have been going over there to hear him. It's remarkable to me."

In the entertainment and night life world, Farrell said he's found that Graham has affected numerous individuals with unstable sex lives and also "alcoholics and those with family problems."

As the Graham crusade goes into its 60th day in Madison Square Garden, with the possibility it may be extended beyond its scheduled closing Sunday night, it already has run a record number of days for the big arena.

"Everybody around here has been astounded that attendance has held up," said John Goldner, Garden's booking manager. "It's the first year that the Garden has stayed open so many months in succession, into the summer."

"It just shows what can be done if you have the proper attraction."

Cab driver Alex Feldman remarked: "Yeh, it's crazy. This Billy-the-Kid has got people thinking they're going to join the angels someday. One of them even jumped on me the other day for cussing the traffic, and how's a hackie going to get by without cussing the traffic?"

Pastors from many churches throughout the city and its suburbs have reported an upsurge of attendance, members and interest.

The Rev. Dan Potter, executive director of the citywide Protestant Council summed up reaction in saying, "The response is many thousands more than I dreamed possible. After talking with hundreds of them, I am convinced that their lives are changed, and for many of them, their lives have never been so genuinely or enthusiastically dedicated to Christ and his church."

Outside the churches, however, in the sophisticated and pleasure-seeking circles for which the city is famed and where religion ordinarily is muted or silent, there also are echoes from the crusade.

The Negro actress, Ethel Waters who has been singing in the crusade choir every night, said: "God through Billy has embarrassed the Devil and got him on the run. I hope we can carry the torch and keep it that way."

By Gardner, a Broadway columnist, said his observation among television, radio and the night club set has been that they're more interested in studying Graham as an example of good showmanship, than in the product he's selling.

"They're mostly impressed, not by acceptance of what he has to offer, but by the fact that he does such a magnificent job of selling it."

Kids Were Lucky

OSLO, July 18 (AP)—Naval explosives experts went out to dismantle an air-dropped World War II mine embedded in a residential suburb and found two kids sitting on it.

One boy said, "This one is not dangerous at all. The kids around here have been taking stuff out of it for years. There's hardly any left."

There was 600 pounds of TNT left. "The thing could have exploded any time," the chief naval sapper said.

Remedy Is Whisky

NEWCASTLE, England, July 18 (AP)—Straight whisky is just the thing to stop the pain of blood clot, says C. G. Rob, professor of surgery at the University of London. He told a doctors' convention here: "I think the best drug for the relief of pain (from blood clot) is alcohol—and I don't mean pharmaceutical—but whisky. Big and repeated doses."

FACES TWO MURDER CHARGES—William Louis Niemi, Jr., 18, Virginia, Minn., stands before the municipal court bench for arraignment on two first degree murder charges in the slaying of his mother and 4-year-old sister. Both were killed during a wild shooting spree. Niemi wounded his father and a second sister suffered powder burns when a shotgun discharged as she wrested the weapon from William. Young Niemi told police he drank eight cans of beer before the shooting. At right is John C. Arko, county prosecutor. (AP Photofax)

Annapolis Church Stripped Of Traditional Ivy

ANNAPOLIS, July 18 (AP)—St. Anne's Episcopal Church is being stripped of its traditional ivy and no one is happy about it—not the rector, the parishioners nor a large opulation of homeless birds.

But The Rev. James F. Madison, the rector, said officials of the 100-year-old edifice were faced "with the choice of having beautiful ivy on a brick ruin, or a good, strong brick church."

Workmen have been tearing down ivy from the ivy-covered walls and hauling it away in trucks for three days.

It was the birds—generations of them—who really caused all the trouble, The Rev. Mr. Madison said.

They made their homes in the ivy and found the oyster shells used in the brick mortar to be an irresistible delicacy.

They pecked away at the shells for the past 100 years and have opened the brick work to rain and the weather. As a result, destructive dampness has set in.

The Rev. Mr. Madison said the ivy also pushed the roof up in spots and climbed between the brick wall and the window frames, destroying the frames.

Workmen are now pointing up the bricks and waterproofing the building which stands in church circle in the center of Annapolis.

The ivy has been stripped to the ground and cut off at the roots, but the roots themselves were not killed.

Whether the ivy will be allowed to grow again "is in the hands of future generations," The Rev. Mr. Madison said.

"It has taken 100 years for the ivy to grow and do its damage. We'll leave the issue to a later time," he said.

Russia Plans To Use Czechoslovakia As Hub Of New Airlines Flying Jets

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, July 18 (AP)—The Soviet Union plans to use this loyal satellite on the edge of the Iron Curtain area as the hub of airlines flying new jet aircraft, reliable sources here assert.

The first move in that direction, they say, is the sale of three TU104 jets to Czechoslovakia for use on a new route between Prague and Cairo. Czech crews already are training in the Soviet Union for this venture.

There are reports here that the Soviet Union, exploiting the time edge it has on the west, may send its speedy jets—which now make the 1,040-mile Moscow - Prague flight in less than 2½ hours—into Saia and elsewhere in Europe.

Prague with its present air links to Scandinavia, India and Western Europe, is ideally situated to serve as a contact between Russia and the outside world.

Following establishment of a Prague-Cairo air route with Russian jets, observers expect the Soviet Union to extend its speedy jet services to Copenhagen. In exchange the Scandinavian Airlines System, which now uses small twin-engined Scandias on the route to Moscow, will be able to fly the first four-engined planes into the Soviet capital.

Aviation sources here expect this service to start by mid-October. There is no indication whether the Soviet Union, whose first four-engine jet already has been announced, will seek to extend its flights to London and to other points in Western Europe.

Daily flights of swift jet planes between Prague and Cairo also would provide a perfect means of maintaining Soviet contacts in areas where Communist arms have been sent. It is an open secret that many Egyptian and other Middle Eastern offices are here as "tourists."

Improvement Of State School Staffs Is Sought

BALTIMORE (AP) — Legislators have been told that larger and better trained staffs are the primary need at Maryland's state institutions for delinquent minors.

Del. Margaret C. Schweinhaut (D-Montgomery) and Elbert L. Fletcher, superintendent of the Maryland Training School for Boys, both said improving the schools' staffs is more important than creating a separate agency to operate them.

They appeared Wednesday before a special Legislative committee appointed to study whether centralization of the schools under a new agency is warranted at this time.

The schools are now jointly administered by the State Department of Welfare and four separate boards of managers.

Del. Schweinhaut said the only reason for creating a new department would be to focus attention on the seriousness of juvenile delinquency and the State's efforts at rehabilitation.

"I don't care what department you put us under, but give us your support . . . before we lose these children," Fletcher told the legislators.

In answer to a direct question, Fletcher said he does think the schools would operate better under a separate agency.

"We've come of age," he said, "and want a ring of our own instead of sharing one with some body else."

Draft Boards Lists Changes In Regulations

Several changes in the Selective Service System, including the classification of Ready Reservists, have been made, according to Colonel Henry C. Stanwood, state director of Maryland.

Col. Stanwood said men serving satisfactorily as members of units of the Ready Reserve will be classified as not available for induction by Selective Service local boards.

This latest change in the regulations he said, was prompted by the recent efforts to build up the Ready Reserve program which had been lagging.

Other changes include an order of deferment of persons in case of extreme hardship to dependents. Formerly such registrants were required to show both extreme hardship and privation to dependents.

A change in the regulations simplifies procedures for the transfer of a registrant to another local board for physical examination or induction.

Two changes affect the critical skills program. One grants an employer, who has requested the selection of a registrant for the enlistment in the Ready Reserve Critical Skill Program, the same appeal rights as the registrant is granted.

The other requires the local boards to inform registrants and employers of their appeal rights with notification of the board's or appeal board's action on a request to enter the Ready Reserve critical skill program.

Brides Must Change Names On SS Record

June brides who plan to continue working need to do something more than sign the marriage application and slip on the ring, according to James E. Robertson, Cumberland Social Security office manager. They also need to change their names on their Social Security records.

"Any woman who changes her name should be sure to submit a 'change of records' card to us," he said, "so that her new name may be tied in with our records under her previous name."

Records may be changed by calling at the Social Security office in the Post Office Building, Cumberland; or by requesting a change of record card from that office by mail.

"It's a very simple procedure," Mr. Robertson added. "But it's one of those little things that mean so much. Future benefits under the old-age and survivors insurance system will be based on the work record, and that record cannot be complete and up-to-date in all respects unless the ladies remember to change their names on our records when they get married."

John W. Barton and K. O. Nelson, both of Pinto, have been elected to membership in the Ayrshire Breeders' Association with headquarters in Brandon, VT.

The ancestors of the herd of dairy cows owned by the two-area men trace back to the heather-covered hills of County Ayr, Scotland, from which the breed derives its name.

Company Signs Union Contract

A one-year contract has been signed by Local 453, Teamsters Union, and the Koppers Company covering the 150 employees at the tie-treating plant at Green Spring, according to C. E. Stutzman, union business agent.

Stutzman said the agreement was reached Wednesday morning with the company granting a 13-cent-an-hour wage hike.

A three-cent an hour cost of living increase in February which resulted from the escalator clause in the contract was placed in the basic pay, he added. Wag-

Fish Rodeo Set Tomorrow At Oldtown

Plans have been completed for the annual fishing rodeo and officials of the Oldtown Sportsmen Club point out that the Inland Game and Fish Commission has stocked the Battie Mixon Hole of the C&O Canal at Oldtown in preparation for the event which will be held Saturday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The rodeo, which has become an outstanding summer attraction for the "small fry" of the area, will be held the following Saturday in case of rain.

The state commission has stocked the greatest number of fish in the history of the program, club spokesmen said, adding that a ramp has been erected over a section of the water for use by patients of the Allegany County League for Crippled Children.

The major portion of the participants is expected to come from registrants of the city's 15 playgrounds, although it was pointed out that all children in the county between the ages of seven and 17 years may participate. Children not registered at the playgrounds must be accompanied by a parent or guardian, club spokesmen said.

Children are expected to bring their own lunches, although the Oldtown Sportsmen Club will have a refreshments booth on the grounds where hamburgers, hot dogs and soft drinks will be sold. Milk will be provided free of charge by area dairies.

Participating in the plans for the rodeo are the City Recreation Department, Cumberland Outdoor Club, South End Rod and Gun Club and the Inland Game and Fish Commission.

The flags of the member nations of the United Nations are raised in alphabetical order.

City Awaits Survey Data On Fly Ash

The city is awaiting a report from a representative of a Washington consulting firm who was called here to investigate complaints of excessive fly ash from local industries, principally the River Plant of the Potomac Edison Company.

Mayor Roy W. Eves yesterday said Resources Research, Inc., Washington engineering and consulting firm, sent an engineer here as a result of complaints by employees at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

Verbal recommendations have been made concerning the operating procedures at the PE plant, the mayor said, adding that the suggested changes apparently have resulted in improving the fly ash situation.

A large delegation of Kelly employees recently appeared at Mayor Eves' office demanding that the city do something about the ash situation—with spokesmen for the group declaring that damage was being done to clothing and automobiles when the stacks were blown at the PE plant near the Kelly.

Legal action was threatened by the group unless the situation improved. Following the early-morning sidewalk discussion, Mayor Eves contacted the Washington firm asking that an engineer be sent here to check the complaints. Boiler installations at other industries besides the PE plant were checked for smoke complaints, the mayor said.

EARL S. WEISHAAR

Injuries Fatal To Victim Of Auto Accident

Earl S. Weishaar, 50, Frostburg, died yesterday in Miners Hospital of injuries sustained in a two-car accident Tuesday morning at Clarysville.

Trooper Willis E. Foreman of the Maryland State Police, who investigated, said Weishaar was traveling east on U. S. Route 40 when he lost control of his automobile.

It shot across the highway and collided with another car driven by Royce E. Adams, 22, of Star Route, Everett, Pa.

Trooper Foreman said the Weishaar vehicle apparently got onto the shoulder of the highway, and when the man attempted to get back on the road he lost control. The car crossed the highway and struck Adams' car which was heading west, Foreman said.

The State Trooper's report also stated that after striking the Adams vehicle, Weishaar was thrown clear, and the car continued driverless approximately 450 feet and came to rest in a small creek.

He suffered head and internal injuries.

Weishaar was traveling to work at the Amcelle Plant of the Celanese Corporation where he had been employed 24 years.

During World War II, Mr. Weishaar became active in the Ground Observers Corps and continued to be active during the Korean conflict. He logged more than 300 hours of skywatch during the Korean period.

He was employed as a specialist in the Amcelle Spinning Department, was a member of St. Michael's Catholic Church of Frostburg, Council 1442, Knights of Columbus, Aerie 1273, FO Eagles and Frostburg Lodge 470, BPO Elks.

He was a son of Willies Weishaar of Mt. Airy and the late Daisy (Hood) Weishaar. He was a native of New Windsor, Md.

Besides his father, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Evelyn (Higgins) Weishaar.

The body is at the Durst Funeral Home.

A requiem mass will be celebrated tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. at St. Michael's Catholic Church by Rev. Regis Larkin, assistant pastor. Burial will be in the parish cemetery.

560,000 Get Dividends

EDMONTON, Alta., July 18 (AP)—About 560,000 Albertans will receive dividends of $20 each from the provincial government this fall, says an official announcement. The money is from royalties on the sale of oil and gas in 1956.

Boy To Get Hearing On Auto Theft

A 13-year-old Frostburg boy will be given a hearing in Juvenile Court today after being involved in the theft of an automobile Wednesday.

Authorities said yesterday the boy decided to run away Wednesday and stole an automobile owned by Maurice Spates in Frostburg.

Before he had traveled two blocks the boy struck a parked car owned by George Pugh, 114 Certer Street, Frostburg. Passersby held the boy until police arrived.

Trooper Donald Wade of the Maryland State Police and Frostburg City Police said their investigation revealed that after the boy went to bed Wednesday he stacked his pillows on the bed and covered them with covers, and then ran away.

NEW YORK, July 18 (AP)—Drivers, imprisoned for traffic violations, will be taught the principles of safe driving in two city prisons this fall. Attendance will be compulsory.

Five Men Seek County Humane Office Post

Rules and regulations for operation of the 1957 dog law in Allegany County have been drawn up and action is expected soon by the Board of County Commissioners.

A sum of $10,000 has been set aside in the current budget for administering the law.

In the meantime, five men have made application for humane officer. They are Charles Welsh, presently the humane officer for the City of Cumberland; Merwin R. Hast Jr., Union Grove Road; Ellsworth L. Riggleman, Mt. Savage; Burza Hanlin, police chief at Westernport; and Gerald D. Hare, city.

The new dog law was passed at the recent session of the Legislature. One of the organizations which pushed for the law was the Allegany County Humane Society.

Although the commissioners have not yet decided on the number of humane officers to be named, it is understood there is a good chance two men will be given positions.

One would work in the area from Westernport to McCoole and along the Georges Creek while the other would be based in Cumberland and work the sections adjacent to and east of this city.

The salary for the jobs is also open at the present, but the report is that the humane officer would be paid a basic salary and also a certain fee for the number of dogs and animals handled. This would provide a sufficient payment for the work and also be an incentive for the men named to the jobs, a county spokesman pointed out.

The commissioners will submit the names of the applicants to the recently appointed Civil Service Board for the county and the new board will certify those considered qualified.

Meanwhile, Mayor Roy W. Eves said yesterday that his office and the Cumberland Police Department have received numerous

Caste System Retained

MADRAS, July 18 (U-P)—Kerala, the only Communist-run state in India, is retaining the age-old system of caste segregation at cremation grounds.

A Communist member who raised the question in the Legislative Assembly was silenced by Dr. A. R. Menon, independent leader of the Communist-dominated Health Ministry, who said: "The caste system is more rigorously observed in cremation grounds than elsewhere and there will be a hue and cry if communal cremation grounds are prohibited in the state."

Mental Illness Drop Cited In Annual Report

A strongly optimistic note on the prospects for continued success in the fight against mental illness was sounded by the National Association for Mental Health in its annual report which was distributed in Maryland this week by the Maryland Association for Mental Health.

F. Barry Ryan Jr., president of the organization, said in the report that the mental hospital figures for the past year had borne out the belief that a turning point had been reached.

"This belief was borne out quite dramatically by the year-end figures for 1956 which showed that in state and county mental hospitals (which care for about 90 per cent of all the nation's mental hospital patients) there had actually been a reduction of some 7,000 resident patients during the year. This, we stress, was not just a deceleration but an actual reversal — the beginning, very likely, of a downward trend."

Few British Addicts

LONDON, July 18 (U-P)—An official British medical report says more than 25 per cent of the few known drug addicts in Britain are doctors or nurses.

It adds that apart from a small number of dance band musicians there is no significant number of addicts in other occupational groups, and it lists drug addiction as not a serious problem here.

The report submitted to the U.N. under the international narcotics convention lists 333 known drug addicts in all Britain, 77 of them doctors, 20 nurses, and 39 new cases in 1956.

He was of the Constitution could go hang, plainly reluctant to announce his decision to run for a second term, on February 29, 1956, at his reg- ular morning news conference because he preferred to save the story for television that night.

Daly's point is that it is un- constitutional to separate the several means by which the American people are kept in- formed of what is happening about them. The bag associa- tion's attitude is not necessarily in accord with the thinking of all American judges, though some- if not most—will resist the ex- pansion of knowledge of precise- ly what takes place in their court- rooms. It would seem that the legal eagles themselves have tak- en a lot upon themselves in at- tempting to limit coverage and therefore curtail general knowl- edge of the course of jurisp- rudence. Some, of course, would bar newspapermen, too, if they dared buck the solid tradition of such coverage.

The day is sure to come when the lens and the microphone are as much a part of the courtroom scene as the reporter's pencil and the bored bailiff. It is simply a question of the constitutional rights of those media to attend public hearings if they so choose, plus an obligation on their part to disturb as little as possible the decorum of the court and an interested party's claim on a fair shake.

The TV camera has proved in several test cases in court that it can be as unobtrusive as a knothole in the room's paneling. It needs no special lights. The comments of the radio fellow and the TV commentator were as re- mote to those in the courtroom as off-stage chatter in the anti- septic regions of UN's telecom- munications system.

No honest judge or prosecutor need fear what a camera reveals or a microphone records. A con- tinuation of the ban on even dis- creet TV and radio coverage must, in the end, lead the public to conclude that judge, prosecu- tion and defense have entered in- to an unholy alliance to deprive the people of their right to know. Only the scoundrels in our halls of justice can suffer from such additional exposure.

Senate Cloakroom

by Sen. J. Glenn Beall

As the Senate faced the possi- bility of a lengthy filibuster, each member received a memoran- dum on "resting during the late or all-night sessions" and a "Do Not Disturb" sign to hang on his doors when the building's clean- ing force might be at work.

Some Senators had cots rolled into their offices. Most members cancelled all their outside en- gagements. Realizing the impor- tance of maintaining a force strong enough to participate ef- fectively in any parliamentary action, the Senators were pre- paring to be on hand day and night.

Sitting It Out

I mention this because the tac- tic of "sitting-it-out" is one of the basic remedies for obstruc- tion in the Senate when it is not possible to muster 64 votes nec- essary to cut off a prolonged de- bate.

In the past this strategy has not always been effective, even though anti-filibuster forces have sometimes insisted on the strict- est observance of various Senate rules which might tend to wear down the speakers.

In fact, a review of Congres- sional history will show that fili- busters have had initial successes against all types of legislation, ranging from a migratory bird bill to a flood control measure.

However, as I mentioned in last week's "Senate Cloakroom" newsletter, all but 11 of the 36 major bills which have been suc- cessfully filibustered in the Sen- ate since 1865 have eventually been enacted into law.

A group of nine Civil Rights measurs forms the most notice- able block of bills which have been talked to death during one session without being revived and passed in another.

Pros Of Filibustering

In brief, the following are some of the arguments which have been offered in favor of filibuster- ing:

(1) Obstruction is justifiable as a means of preventing a majority from trampling upon minority rights, which the Government has a duty to protect.

(2) A Senate majority does not necessarily represent a consen- sus of the people or even of the States, and prolonged debate may prevent hasty majority action which would be out of har- mony with genuine popular opin- ion.

(3) It is essential in our form of Government that there be one place — in this case, the Senate — where a thorough and exhaus- tive debate can be conducted. Such unrestricted debate is also a vital check upon presidential or party autocracy.

(4) The record will show that the Senate has operated effec- tively under rules permitting fili- busters.

(5) In debates involving funda- mental Constitutional questions, Senators have a duty to protect the rights of their individual States.

Arguments Against Filibusters

Those opposed to filibusters use the following arguments:

(1) Under the practice of fili-bustering, the basic American principle of majority rule is nulli- fied.

(2) Filibusters are costly and destroy the ability of the Senate to act efficiently on legislation.

(3) Filibustering gives one Senator or a small group of Sen- ators the power to veto a measure or to, extort special favors for their own constituents.

(4) For decades important so- cial legislation has been delayed and public resentment has been aroused by such obstructionist tactics.

(5) An effective anti-filibuster rule ought to exist because it is the duty of the Senate not merely to debate but to legislate, and the volume of business is such that time should not be consum- ed uselessly.

Personal Position

The pro's and con's of this is- sue obviously include arguments which themselves can touch off almost endless debates.

My own feeling, which I have stated on numerous occasions, is this:

"I will continue to lend my strongest support to the principle that matters before the Senate should be given the most exten- sive debate, but I also feel strong- ly discussed, every man should ly that after the facts have been called on to see the issue to a logical conclusion, and vote."

"Only in such a way will the citizens of America know how their elected representatives feel about the pressing issues of our times, and only in such a way will civil rights legislation be brought into the open for the de- cisive action—either pro or con—to which it is entitled. The same is true of other matters."

"Lengthy debate on important matters is a dictate of wisdom; endless debate is the offspring of evasion, folly and waste."

WASHINGTON — It seems to me that the current hue and cry poultry inspection bill has been over specific Supreme Court de- cisions misses the most signifi- cant — and in my opinion dan- gerous — trend developing out of households, restaurants, hotels, Supreme Court opinions. While etc.

The Court is leaning over back- wards to protect individual rights it is at the same time increasing and broadening Federal power.

I am inclined to agree with the general philosophy of the Court with regard to freedom of speech, right of the people to peaceably assemble and due process of law, but I disagree with its concep- of increasing Federal power at the expense of State authority and local responsibility.

It is clear to me that the au- thors of the Constitution wanted strong guarantees for individual rights and limited powers for the Federal government. To make certain there would be no misunderstanding they repeated in the Bill of Rights protection for the individual and restraints on Federal power. It is a fact of history that individual rights dis- appear as the power of govern- ment grows. A people preserve their individual rights only as they place strong limitations on the power of their government.

What the Supreme Court and the so-called American liberal is apparently trying to do is to strengthen individual rights in a Federal government of unlimited powers. Eventually, if such a course continues the guarantees in our Bill of Rights will have to be sacrificed to a strong cen- tral government in Washington. I do not believe the people are aware of the dangers we face as a Nation if the present trend continues.

Group Starts State Highway Beautification

BALTIMORE, July 18 (AP)—A roadside beautification program aimed at planting thousands of flowering shrubs and trees along Maryland's highways was started today by the Governor's Committee to Keep Maryland Beautiful.

Representatives of the State Roads Commission and garden and civic clubs met on the Baltimore-Washington Expressway, just outside the Baltimore City limits.

On the first mile of the expressway, they will plant 500 multi-flora rose bushes, 450 flowering crab trees and 15,000 pine seedlings. A solid stream of the shrubbery will be planted on one side to hide an auto graveyard and a lumber junk yard will be screened on the other side.

Some of the shrubbery also will be planted in the center strips as protection from headlight glare and to cut down mowing areas, thereby reducing maintenance costs.

The roads commission will do the planting and maintain the shrubbery in the program. Most of the trees and bushes, however, will be contributed by private citizens, civic groups and commercial plants in the areas being landscaped.

John E. Clark of Bel Air, chairman of the Committee to Keep Maryland Beautiful, said steps would be taken in every section of the state to improve highway landscaping.

He urged civic groups throughout Maryland to adopt roadside beautification as their club project for 1958.

Envoy To Malaya?

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya, July 18 (AP)—Christian Herter, No. 2 man in the U.S. State Department, and Middle East Ambassador James P. Richards are expected to arrive here with their wives Aug. 29 for the Malayan independence ceremonies. Observers believe such attention may mean a U.S. ambassador will be appointed to the emerging British Commonwealth nation.

The U. S. hot dog was first named by citizens of Frankfurt, Germany, as the frankfurter. Later they were named in Vienna as wieners (or Vienna-ers). And in Hamburg they were called hamburgers.

U. OF MD. RESEARCH TOOL—A technician of the High Voltage Engineering Corporation checks an insulation position on a Van de Graaff accelerator. The accelerator is similar to a 3,000,000-volt accelerator that will be installed in the University of Maryland physics building. The equipment will be the basic tool of a quarter of a million dollar Atomic Energy Commission contract which will support theoretical and experimental research by the university's Department of Physics.

Staked Plains

The Llano Estacado (staked plains) of eastern New Mexico are so named because, in pioneer days, the men who drove their covered wagons over the region found it so flat they were forced to drive stakes into the ground to mark the trail and serve as landmarks.

Delinquent Minors Problem Discussed

BALTIMORE, July 18 (AP)—Del. Margaret C. Schweinhaut (D-Montgomery) claims her two-year fight to change administration of the State's four institutions for delinquent minors was to emphasize the problem.

She admitted to a Legislative Council committee last night that "there is no compelling need" for creation of a new agency.

The institutions now are administered jointly by the Department of Welfare and a board of managers for each school.

Mrs. Schweinhaut for two years backed vigorously bills to transfer more control to the department. Gov. McKeldin vetoed one bill in 1956 to abolish the boards.

Del. Schweinhaut told a legislative committee the reason for centralization of authority would be to focus attention on juvenile delinquency and what the state is doing about it.

Elbert L. Fletcher, superintendent of the Maryland Training School for Boys, favored a separate agency.

General Washington is carried on United States Army rolls as a three-star general.

Emergency Fire Equipment Taken To Eastern Shore

BALTIMORE, July 18 (AP)—Emergency fire equipment was moved to the Eastern Shore today by the Department of Forests and Parks because of "very critical" forest fire conditions.

State Forester Henry Buckingham said the department has added another truck to the two put in readiness on the Shore three weeks ago. A fireline plow also has been stationed on the shore since drought conditions became critical.

There has been no appreciable rain in Dorchester County, where the equipment is stationed, since June 7.

Buckingham said the equipment was especially needed in Dorchester because the county is so cut up by waterways that land movement is impeded.

Buckingham said the fire equipment will remain on the Shore until conditions improve. "If conditions justify," he said, "we may use more."

States west of the Mississippi account for 62 per cent of America's livestock population.

Shore Seeks Support Of Yule Wreath Bill

SALISBURY, July 18 (AP)—It may be July with temperatures in the 90s but the Salisbury Chamber of Commerce is thinking about December and Christmas wreaths.

The chamber's legislative committee has asked Maryland's congressmen to support a bill which would permit continuation of the old Eastern Shore art of Christmas wreath making.

Application of the Wage and Hours Law last year virtually wiped out the industry in which holly wreaths have been made for many years in farm homes and sold to wholesalers at auction.

A bill now before Congress asks that holly makers be exempted from the law. They said they are unable to keep the extensive records required for compliance with the law.

A farm family makes wreaths from holly it cuts and collects in the woods. A friendly wholesaler or contractor advances money for supplies, such as wire and hoops. The wreath makers say it would be difficult, if not impossible, to keep track of the time each member of the family spends on the work.

Silver Spring Blonde, 18, Chosen "Miss Maryland"

BALTIMORE, July 18 (AP)—Miss Nancy Norris, short but sweet blue-eyed blonde from Silver Spring, today reigns as "Miss Maryland" and will represent the state in the "Miss America" pageant at Atlantic City later this year.

She was chosen last night over 15 other contestants on the basis of personality, talent, looks and carriage.

One of the smallest entries ever to win the crown, Nancy is 5-feet-2½-inches and weighs only 112 pounds.

The 18-year-old June graduate of Montgomery-Blair High School, hopes to attend college, wants to get married and thinks the "perfect husband" should be loyal, honest and trustworthy.

Her blue-gray eyes light up when she talks about her boyfriend, Bob Berger, University of Maryland student "now in the Army."

Nancy received the crown from last year's Miss Maryland, Jeanne Steel of Timonium.

Runner-up was Miss Priscilla Ann Thomas, 20-year-old brunette.

Russell Sage College student from Carroll County. Miss Pat Lee, Baltimore secretary, also a brunette, was third.

Miss Norris was the only blonde in the competition.

W.Va. Streams Fair

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 18 (AP)—Weekend prospects for good fishing in West Virginia appear to be only fair, the State Conservation Department reported today.

Most of the Mountain State's streams were either low and clear or slightly milky. Exceptions were the Bluestone Dam in Summers County and the New River in Fayette County, which were reported normal and clear.

Safety Campaign Pays Off In Lives

For drivers impervious to such efforts as "Slow Down and Live" campaigns and the many other attempts to curb fatalities in traffic it is obvious such slogans have little meaning. But there must be a large segment of the driving public that does give heed—willingly or otherwise.

That is the inference to be drawn from the first six-month report on the National Safety Council's "back the attack on traffic accidents" campaign.

Statistics compiled at the council's headquarters reveal that for the half year ended last June 30, fatalities were 2 per cent below the level at the same time last year. In lives the saving was placed at 400, all the more significant because of the greater volume of 1957 traffic.

Another satisfaction of the campaign is the finding that no single month this year has shown an increase in traffic deaths.

Many factors have entered into the improved national showing. Police forces have been strengthened, laws have been tightened, and radar and other detection devices have come into wider use. Educational campaigns do pay off but there still is the same vital cog in any improvement—the individual driver.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky David Greenglass's Parole

Apparently one must be an unrelenting Communist to enjoy the benefit of a favorable decision. Those who served this party or the government it represents and broke with it, for one reason or another, and aided the FBI or the Department of Justice or a Congressional committee are not even to be given a parole, despite the general tendency of parole boards to be easy on the wicked and to return them to society to do what comes naturally to them.

David Greenglass was the brother of Mrs. Julius Rosenberg who, with her husband, organized the theft of the atom bomb for Soviet Russia. Greenglass and Harry Gold aided the government in getting a conviction of the Rosenbergs who were no doubt important spies. Each was sentenced to fairly long terms. I have been informed that Greenglass was promised that if he testified truthfully he would only get five years. He got 15. I do not know who made the promise.

He has recently applied for a parole and was turned down. No reason has been given publicly as to why he was turned down. Were Greenglass a Communist, there would be a Committee to Free Greenglass which would collect funds and hire expensive lawyers and make a great noise, but as he was a government witness he gets no such benefits and no such pressure is exerted in his favor.

Also, the way he is being treated must be a discouragement to others who may want to be government witnesses, as it is obvious that the government does not stand behind those who help it win cases against Communists or spies.

Judge Robert Morris, chief counsel of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, who fights Communists and spies professionally, spoke up to the U. S. Board of Parole in favor of David Greenglass. He said that the sentence of 15 years was unjust; that Greenglass cooperated with the FBI from the moment they first approached him.

The question then arises whether these various decisions are related to justice or to policy. I am now engaged in reading all the decisions handed down by the courts in cases involving Communists and find a curious phenomenon, namely, that a sharp change took place in 1953 which was like a sharp knife cutting through a cheese. Apparently, prior to 1953 courts followed one pattern; subsequent to 1953, courts followed another pattern. The line of demarcation is too noticeable to be meaningless and I am now trying to discover whether there was a reason for the shift of attitude. Also, after the 1956 election, no Congressional committee has been effective in any anti-Communist activity, not even the experienced House Committee on Un-American Activities.

I am not discussing the rightness or wrongness of the changed attitude but am reporting a state of mind, an attitude, a characteristic of an era. Senator Joe McCarthy was killed off by the Army-McCarthy hearings and eventually by the act of condemnation, which ultimately destroyed him as a person. Joe would be the last man in the world to want to be regarded as a martyr. As only his most intimate friends and perhaps objective psychologists can know, Joe was a modest man, perhaps not a little frightened by his success, notoriety or acclaim, as one wishes to state it. At his height, he was as important as the President of the United States; at his lowest, he was not even invited to a general and really insignificant White House affair.

The exaggeration of McCarthy's achievements and the vindictiveness after his defeat have had the effect of literally scaring many public figures, particularly Senators, into adopting an apathetic attitude not only to McCarthy's favorite subjects but to anything that may evoke White House displeasure. Thus, a Senator speaking privately against a measure which he sincerely opposed but which he publicly favored, made the point that opposition to the President offends and embarrasses the President very much, and that once the President has proclaimed his position in a speech or a press conference, a wide difference of opinion, however justified, becomes a personal matter with him and his staff. When asked, what about the separation of powers as stipulated in the Constitution, the Senator replied: "Someday someone will have the courage to break through. I am not that man."

"Up And At 'Em - You're In Good Shape"

Kerr's "Brains" Subject Raises Delicate Issue

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Senator Kerr, Democrat, of Oklahoma, raised a very delicate issue in the Senate the other day — the subject of "brains." He said that President Eisenhower doesn't have "brains" in matters of government finance.

This brings up the question of who really has "brains," anyway, on fiscal policies today. Senator Capehart of Indiana, Republican, said that Senator Kerr should be "ashamed" to say what he did about the President. Mr. Kerr retorted that he was applying the remark solely to financial matters. As for those who have "no brains at all," the Oklahoma Senator declared he was reserving that "broad and sweeping accusation" for some of his colleagues in the Senate.

The average man may possibly derive from this the impression that perhaps there are some men in the Senate without "brains." This would be a regrettable inference. For it does take a good deal of brain power, after all, just to get elected nowadays, though cynics argue, of course, that it doesn't require much "brains" to fool the public in an election campaign.

No "Brains" Various senators, to be sure, have in their speeches from time to time in history hinted that maybe some of their colleagues didn't have "brains." So Mr. Kerr's size-up of some present-day senators has precedent on its side. In fact, there have been senators who frequently have gone so far as to let it be known that they really didn't think the President of the United States, when he happened to be a member of an opposite political party, possessed any "brains." Partisanship used to "end at the water's edge," but now it begins there, and no subject is immune from partisan diagnosis — even the inside of a presidential cranium.

When it comes to the "brains" of a chief executive, it must be conceded that discussion has never been inhibited. With un-concealed modesty, the late Franklin D. Roosevelt once confessed to a nationwide radio audience that whatever errors he had made were "mistakes of the mind rather than of the heart." Nor did he hide the shortcomings in his knowledge of various public questions. He assembled a staff which was popularly known in the 1930's as a "Brain Trust." It was responsible for much of the New Deal "economics" that has left a residue of inflationary devices to plague the nation today, though many Democrats now evidently favor the further use of those same devices.

"Brain Trust" As a matter of fact, what is most needed currently is a new kind of "Brain Trust" — one that believes in the simple truth that it isn't right to rob Peter of his wages to pay Paul a subsidy out of the government treasury.

The trouble really is that the people as a whole haven't any "Brain Trust" to help them ferret out the deficiencies of some of their elected representatives. There is, of course, the press, which in the main can be helpful, but even here it will be gladly conceded that omniscience is not attainable. Strange as it may seem, there are still many questions on public affairs to which nobody has as yet found the answers.

But even when "brains" are definitely discovered and isolated, what can be done in matters of fiscal policy, for instance, to persuade various senators, especially the Democrats, to accept as disinterested the policies laid down by such a body of brainful experts as the Federal Reserve Board?

Notwithstanding the fact that the Federal Reserve Board has, on its own initiative, put into effect the so-called "tight money" policy — the natural operation of interest rates in a free economy — marking the emancipation of the board from the political influences of 20 years of New Dealism, there are Democrats in Congress who hold the President responsible for whatever the Federal Reserve Board does.

The particular subject under debate in the Senate when the "brain storm" occurred was whether an independent commission should be appointed, as requested by the President, to make a comprehensive study of all aspects of monetary policy—a scientific study such as has not been made in 40 years.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

How's about this administration never asking Barney Baruch's opinion of the dollar soufflé?

Franklin Roosevelt and Harry Truman seldom tried for that decimal point after touchdown without consulting Barney.

Then they went off on their own like balaam on his donkey.

The Democrats specialized in deficit spending. You borrow from Peter to pay Paul. And stop at the cigarstore to play Indian dice.

Nobody knows what money is since the Wampumetts of Long Island ordered clams and paid for 'em with the shells.

If it's the root of all evil you can have the rest of the tree.

Even the financial wizards don't know what money is. They just like to have it around to use in illustrated lectures.

New Law Prohibits Pesticide Residue On Crops

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Americans rely upon the food and drug administration to protect them against poisonous additives to food. Some persons insist the public is used too often as guinea pigs. If so, there is something wrong with our present laws.

Many citizens are worried about the pesticides employed in agriculture. Some are dangerous, especially when they leave a residue on the food. The farmers feel justified in using sprays and dusts to insure a continuous supply of high quality crops. We have no objection, so long as the materials are not a hazard to us city folk.

A new law now states that a raw agricultural commodity shall not be marketed if it bears a residue of a pesticide. Exceptions are made when the chemical is regarded by experts as safe or when the amount that remains on the food is well tolerated by the consumer. Tolerance is the secret. It means that the amount consumed will do no harm to the body now or in years to come.

No one will deny the value of the antibiotics, but the FDA frowns on their addition to foods, which is done to combat the development of bacteria. The prevention of food spoilage is helpful to the processor but the trouble is that people become sensitive to the wonder drugs, especially when taken in repeated small doses. If this were to happen, their use as a life saving measure in pneumonia or other infection would be impossible.

It is difficult to do anything to food without altering it chemically. During the last decade, attempts have been made to kill bacteria in food with atomic energy (cold sterilization). The rays have been used to prevent the sprouting of potatoes, kill trichina organisms in pork, destroy insect infesting grain, pasteurize milk, and extend the life of certain foods without refrigeration.

The rays, on passing through, do not leave any radioactivity and are harmless in this respect. But the energy they give off creates new chemical substances of which little is known. This aspect must be worked out before the atomic method will become practical.

REPLY Many tots appear drowsy and some develop a 24 hour fever. But this is only a drop in the bucket compared with how they would feel if they developed diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, or smallpox because they were not protected against these diseases.

PINK-EYE E. W. C. writes: Is there a disease called pink-eye. My husband says the word refers to albinos.

REPLY Pink-eye is the popular name of a contagious disease of the membranes lining the eyelids. Various organisms are responsible but the pneumococcus is the most frequent culprit. In albinos, the pupils may appear pink because the iris has so little pigment.

Northern Democrats Are Divided Over Leadership On Civil Rights

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — It probably isn't known to most of their Senate colleagues, but the Senate liberals are in a heck of a mess. After crusading for years for civil rights and being consistently defeated by the Dixiecrat-Republican coalition, they now find themselves divided among themselves and led by the Republican leader of that onetime Dixiecrat coalition.

How deep the disagreement is came out in a secret meeting of Democratic civil rights champions called by Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois. Present were Senators Anderson, of New Mexico, Carroll of Colorado, Murray of Montana, Green and Pastore of Rhode Island, Kennedy of Massachusetts, Symington of Missouri, Neuberger of Oregon, and McNamara of Michigan — all Democrats.

Morse Absent

At the start of the meeting Neuberger observed the absence of another stalwart liberal, Wayne Morse of Oregon.

"I am sorry my colleague is not present," he remarked. "I would prefer to be fighting side by side with him. It is difficult for me to enter into any arrangements here with Wayne absent because, unfortunately, the newspapers in Oregon have been trying to give the impression that there is a split between us. Of course there is nothing of the kind."

"It is quite evident why Wayne is not here," replied Douglas, who was presiding. "He voted against Rule 14 the other day."

"In that case, I had better excuse myself," interposed Sen. Clinton Anderson of New Mexico, "because I did too. Before I do, however, let me give you some advice.

"There are five men sitting up in the front row of the Democratic side. I want to name them in the order of their seats. Kerr (Okla.), Frear (Del.), Anderson (N. Mex.), Magnuson (Wash.), Mansfield (Mont.). They all voted against Rule 14, and you're going to need their help. You haven't got it now.

Beginning Of The Split

"Then," continued Anderson, "on the second row back from the end seat is this fellow Morse. And let me tip you off, you're going to regret the day that you sent this bill to the calendar without going through the Judiciary Committee, because you are going to have to admit in the end that Morse was right."

This referred to the battle which first split the liberal Democrats — namely when Morse of Oregon argued that the civil rights bill, passed in the House of Representatives, should not be put on the Senate calendar immediately, but should go to the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Other liberals argued that if sent to the Judiciary Committee, it would be blocked by Chairman Eastland of Mississippi for weeks, just as it has been blocked by him ever since January. "I also want to make it very clear," continued Anderson, "that I have no intention of following the leadership of Knowland, of California through the Senator of Illinois (Douglas).

"Furthermore, I want to make it clear that I'll have no part of the 3-to-1 ratio," said Anderson, referring to the arrangement whereby three Republicans — Dirksen of Illinois, Case of New Jersey, and Knowland on one side — met with only one Democrat, Douglas, on the other side to discuss civil rights strategy.

"Some of us tried to get civil rights passed last winter by changing cloture," reminded Anderson, "but we didn't get much help from Mr. Knowland. If he wanted civil rights he could have started to work for it then. A good many Republicans would have joined us in changing cloture if Knowland had helped. But he didn't help. So I object to marching under his banner now."

"I remember," concluded Anderson, "that for many years when we did try to do something on civil rights, Bob Taft would go over and whisper with Dick Russell (Georgia) and we would be licked.

"So let's follow our own leader, not these recent Republican converts."

Washington Whirl

Fred Ford, promoted from a minor Justice Department job to be a Federal Communications Commissioner, has orders to keep Congressional investigators out of FCC files. He received special instruction from his boss, Deputy Attorney General Bill Rogers, on legal tricks to keep Congress from prying into FCC secrets. . . . The Senate's No. 1 Democrat, Lyndon Johnson of Texas, has been belittling the No. 2 Democrat, Mike Mansfield of Montana, behind his back. Lyndon has been whispering around the Senate cloakroom that Mike isn't too bright. . . . Actually, the strait-laced Mansfield is less of a politician but more of a scholar than Johnson. (Mansfield used to be a history professor at the University of Montana.) . . . House Speaker Rayburn is telling this one on himself: At the Truman Library dedication in Kansas City, he saw a couple eying his bald dome and overheard one comment: "I didn't know Yuy Brynner was a Democrat."

Limestone Lobby

The limestone lobby won an unreported victory the other day over Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who tried to economize behind Congress' back.

Benson wanted to cut out payments to farmers for spreading lime on their soil. This increases the crop yield, which is the last thing he wants to do. His main objective is to reduce farm surpluses.

Knowing Congress favors conservation practices, however, Benson kept quiet about his plan to cut the limestone subsidy. He waited until the Senate-House conferees were supposed to have agreed on the soil-conservation budget, then issued a secret order to chop off the payments for lime spreading.

What Benson didn't learn until too late, however, was that the budget agreement had been delayed a day. Meanwhile, one of Benson's boys leaked the secret order to the National Limestone Institute, which rushed up to Capitol Hill with it.

Sen. Dick Russell (D., Ga.) and Congressman Jamie Whitten (D., Miss.) were furious at Benson for trying to economize on soil conservation behind their backs. They promptly inserted a directive in the delayed Senate-House report that Agriculture Department must continue paying farmers for spreading lime on their fields.

Have you a one-year-old child? Or do any of your friends, relatives or acquaintances possess an infant of that age? What did the child say first "Mama" or "Papa"? What was the third word spoken by the infant? How many words does the child know now? To be rated intelligent and with a promise of a good future, a one-year-old child should have a vocabulary of about 20 words. The average adult has a vocabulary of about 6,000 words.

HORSES AND WOMEN

Am reliably informed a group of red-haired women is subjecting our Horses and Women Department pamphlet titled "How To Handle a Red-Haired Woman" to a very careful examination. They are, according to the report, also discussing the manner of handling suggested by our experts with a view toward developing a defense for it. Should other groups of flaming tressed females have similar ideas this could prove a serious handicap to many of our subscribers who are matrimonially allied to red-haired women. I have called a special meeting of our Horses and Women experts to discuss it.

ASKING

Queries from clients. Q. Have heard several versions of the pronunciation of the name of the Dutch artist, Van Gogh. What is yours? A. Correct pronunciation is "Van Gok." Q. What is the U. S. record for largest rainbow trout caught? Also muskellunge. A. Rainbow trout record is 37 pounds. Caught at Lake Pend Oreille, Idaho, in 1947. Muskellunge record is 67 11/16 pounds caught at Chipewa Flowage, Wis., in 1949. Q. Is the title of that old song "Rose Are Blooming In Picardy" or "Roses Are Shining In Picardy"? A. The title is "Roses of Picardy." However, the roses are referred to as "shining" because of the dew on them.

THOSE ANNIVERSARIES

The 50th wedding anniversary is the golden wedding, the 55th the emerald, the 75th the diamond. That you know. What is your opinion of this arrangement. I think it is silly. The time for a woman to be presented with gold, emerald and diamonds is when she is young. I intend to conduct my campaign for a revision of the wedding anniversary list with renewed vigor. I have already decided on two new anniversaries. The first to be the "What the Young Couple Needs" anniversary and the fifth the "Mink Wedding." On the latter anniversary all the wife's friends will chip in and buy her a mink coat.

HEREDITY

Florence Quarataro, lyric soprano, has married Italo Tajo, basso. What type of voice do you think a male child born of this union would have? Has there ever been a great opera star whose parents were both opera stars? I can't recall any. Come to think of it, what singing star in any branch of the entertainment field has had a son or daughter who also became a singing star?

STYLE SENSE

Tailors for men have a better style sense than women who design attire for women. The men have a greater talent for effective simplicity. In what type of garment do women appear the smartest and most fashionably garbed? It is the so-called "tailored suit." That extremely popular garment was originated for women by a British tailor whose patrons were mostly men. He felt sorry for the way so many women appeared in street attire and wanted to do something for them. The tailored suit eliminated the bustle and paved the way for sports clothes for women.

918 Students Are Enrolled At Beall High

Girls Outnumbered By Boy Enrollees

FROSTBURG—Dr. Wayne Hill, principal of Beall High School released the figures today on the expected enrollment at Beall for the 1957-58 scholastic year.

According to Dr. Hill, 918 students are enrolled at the present time with the bulk of the new students coming from Beall Elementary School. Approximately 20 students are expected to enroll from St. Michael's parochial school when the fall term begins.

Enrollment by the grades are as follows:

Grade 8, 100 boys and 91 girls, total 191; Grade 9, 105 boys and 87 girls, total 192; Grade 10, 100 boys and 89 girls, total 189; Grade 11, 100 boys and 96 girls, total 196; Grade 12, 74 boys and 76 girls, total 150.

Dr. Hill pointed out a peculiar fact concerning the above enrollment in that boys outnumber the girls in every class except the 12th grade and there boys drop out to hunt work more readily than girls.

Beall High School will also have at least two new faculty members. Gerard Calhoun, Berkeley Springs, W. Va. has accepted an appointment as science teacher and football and track coach replacing James Manges, who has resigned.

A vacancy also exists in the Art Department which has not been filled.

Cause Of Cattle Deaths Apparently Weed Killer

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—Several cattle have died and scores are seriously ill along the South Branch Valley from the Trough to the Petersburg Gap along the Baltimore and Ohio railroad tracks. The cattle apparently were poisoned by the weed killing spray put out along the right of way.

Among the stockmen whose herds have been affected are James Miley, John McNeill, Chris and Charles Alt, George Fisher, Conway Scott, Ralph H. Fisher and Harry and Courtney Pratt.

Veterinarians have examined many of the affected animals and have sent off specimens from the dead cattle to the state laboratories for analysis.

Conservation Officer Bart Townsend reports several deer also have been affected.

Beer Consumption Drops Slightly In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 18.—Beer consumption in West Virginia dropped slightly during the 1956-57 fiscal year ending June 30, according to barrel tax receipts announced today by Beer Commissioner R. D. Platt.

The State collected $3,397,889 compared with $3,450,834 in the 1955-56 fiscal year. Half of this amount is pinpointed for the State's general revenue fund, the other half to retire the World War I and World War II veterans' bonus bonds.

Receipts from beer license fees also dipped. In 1956-57, the State collected $404,565 compared to $447,465 the year before.

Westernport Citizens Asked To Save Water

Dry Spell Prompts Action By Mayor

WESTERNPORT — Citizens of the town are requested not to use any more water than is absolutely necessary, according to Mayor Okey E. Michael.

During the present dry spell, all citizens are asked not to use their hose in watering their garden and washing cars from 3 to 7 p. m. each day.

The action following the request of Nick Lupis, Greene Addition, that something be done to give the residents in that area water in the early evening.

Yesterday morning, Mayor Michael stated there was three feet, 10 inches of water in the storage tank adjacent to Bruce High School representing 31,000 gallons of water.

This amount would be sufficient if the water service lines in the Greene's Addition area were large enough to carry the demand on them. This area has grown considerable in population in the past few years.

Luke Mill Asks Town To Close Part Of Street

Area Is Needed For New Facilities

A petition from the Luke Mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, requesting that a portion of Potomac Avenue be closed, was received Wednesday at a special meeting of the Mayor and Council of Luke.

Mayor Edward Duckworth said the document asked that the street be shut down east of Cromwell Street. The distance involved is 180 feet in length and 25 feet in width.

Company officials said the movement is necessary to enlarge the mill's sheet finishing operation and to provide new shipping facilities at an estimated cost of $1,000,000.

It was pointed out that this phase is essential to the firm's expansion program, and would mean an increase in employment and the assessable tax basis of the town.

A town ordinance provides that when a street is closed the property reverts to the abutting land owners.

The company owns all land on the east side of Cromwell Street from the finishing room to the Luke-Piedmont bridge.

If the mill's petition is contested within a due period of time prescribed by law, a public hearing will be held.

The paper company has embarked on a $50,000,000 expansion program, which already has resulted in some buildings in Luke being removed.

Two new paper machines will be erected, and many other facilities of the big plant will be enlarged.

Tidewater-Hazelwood Company has the prime contract for the big project.

Chinese Celery And Onion Rice

This vegetable is delicious with any meat or chicken and you might keep it in mind when you plan a bar-be-cue! You can chop the celery and brown the rice ahead of time. After that, it takes just 20 minutes to have this inexpensive vegetable ready to serve. The soy sauce is a delightful and different seasoning trick borrowed from the Chinese. Rice, onion and garlic are cooked in fat. Then celery and seasonings are added. The rice and celery are cooked in water until tender. After this vegetable cooks, it will stay hot if kept covered about 15 minutes.

Fix Ahead Vegetable

It saves housewife wear and tear if part of each meal is prepared ahead of time. This vegetable recipe cooks everything ahead so it requires only reheating at mealtime! Since rice is used, there's no time consuming vegetable preparation. Clean packaged rice needs no before-hand preparation nor washing. (Washing wastes food value.) Red pimientos and plump green peas make our vegetable dish colorful! Convenient canned mushroom soup adds savory flavor.

Cooked rice and cooked green peas are mixed together with chopped pimientos. This is stored in the refrigerator until meal time. It's allowed to come to room temperature, then stirred into hot diluted mushroom soup to heat until piping hot.

Fresh Pineapple

You don't have to visit a tropical isle to enjoy tropical food. The queen of the tropics, fresh pineapple, is at your favorite supermarket right now, and selling for realistic prices. Pineapple, once a luxury to be enjoyed only on state occasions, is now available the year around at prices within the reach of all. Right now is the peak of the pineapple season, timed to come between seasons for our own domestic fruit, when the citrus and other winter fruits are on the wane and the summer fruits have not yet matured. Pineapple is especially appropriate for springtime serving because of its tangy taste, its richness in vitamin C which we need cut cubes, squares, or wedges across each slice, discarding the core in the center.

Pineapple and Strawberry Salad
1 small fresh pineapple
1½ cups of strawberries
1 tablespoon of mint leaves (chopped)
Fruit salad dressing
Prepare pineapple as suggested above. Cut into cubes and chill. Wash, hull and chill strawberries. Combine fruit and arrange on crisp leaves of lettuce or chicory. Sprinkle with mint and serve with fruit salad dressing.

Fresh Pineapple Plate
Arrange crosswise circles of avocado with rings of fresh pineapple on crisp salad greens. Decorate with a few bright berries or any seasonal fruit. Wedges of fresh lime make the perfect dressing.

School's out and summer lunches at home are on the increase. Mugfuls of canned condensed soup with a selection of sandwiches offer nourishment, taste and eye appeal.

The Kids Favorites — Soup And Sandwiches

Polls show that "kids" lunches at home increase by the billions in the month of June. School's out and Mom is full-time lunch chef.

Trays of soup and sandwiches win on all counts . . . nutritional balance, taste and eye appeal. Mobile too, for simple trays (basket weave, plastic, etc.) conveniently hold mugfuls of soup or soup mates, made from canned condensed soup, and a selection of sandwiches. Dessert can be fresh fruit and cookies. Serve indoors or out, good anywhere.

The whole idea adds up to fun and energy, just right to continue an afternoon's enjoyment at play or work, whichever is the call of the day. Plan your summer lunches around soup and sandwiches. If it suits your fancy better, let the kids prepare their own. Fun to make and fun to eat. Serve the kids favorite condensed soup, or combine their

Milwaukee Beats Phils, 4-2, Captures First Place

Cards Lose Lead, Phils Now Fourth

Schoendienst Starts Three Twin Killings; Rice Bats In 3 Runs

PHILADELPHIA, July 18 (AP)—Red Schoendienst started three double plays and Del Rice batted in three runs, capping the Milwaukee Braves' comeback drive into first place tonight with a 4-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Braves, rebounding from a crushing 20-4 defeat by the Brooklyn Dodgers Monday night, moved into first place by one game over St. Louis. The Cards, who held a one percentage point lead over the Milwaukeeans before today's action, lost to Brooklyn 10-9 in 11 innings.

The Phillies, who were in first place at the start of this three game series, dropped to fourth, one and a half games off the pace. The Phils made little headway against Milwaukee starter and winner Bob Buhl.

Rice started the Braves' scoring with a two-run homer behind rookie John De Merit's single in the second.

Bell's Homer Sinks Giants

Cincy Triumphs 2-1 On Gus' 2-Run Belt

NEW YORK, July 18 (AP)—Gus Bell did it all by himself today with a two-run homer and a pair of singles in Cincinnati's 2-1 victory over New York although Raul Sanchez had to snuff out a ninth inning Giant rally to save Johnny Klippstein.

Bell hit his ninth homer into the upper right field seats in the third after Johnny Temple had worked Stu Miller for a walk.

Although the Redlegs had men on base in every inning except the fourth they didn't score again, as the Giant infield choked them off with the help of some double plays.

The Giants broke Klippstein's shutout bid in the ninth when Bobby Thomson hit his ninth homer to lead off the inning. It was Klippstein's fourth win and Miller's sixth defeat.

White Sox Blow In 9th, Orioles Score 6-2 Win

Harshman Blows Up, Baltimore Gets Five Runs In Final Frame

CHICAGO, July 18 (AP)—The second-place Chicago White Sox, who make a practice of blowing games in the late innings, did it again today.

The Baltimore Orioles unraveled lefty Jack Harshman in the ninth inning for five runs, two coming on Billy Goodman's bases-loaded pinch single, for a 6-2 triumph over the White Sox.

Harshman had scattered three hits up to the ninth and was sailing along smoothly on a 2-1 advantage fashioned on big Walt Dropo's two-run homer in the third off Oriole starter Billy O'Dell.

It marked the fourth loss since July 4 suffered by the White Sox from enemy rallies in the eighth or ninth innings.

The winner today was Baltimore's fine reliever, George Zuverink, who entered the game at the start of the eighth after O'Dell yielded to a pinch-hitter. It was Zuverink's ninth victory against five defeats.

O'Dell hurled neatly for the Orioles during his seven innings, giving only four hits, two each in the second and third. The big blow, of course, was Dropo's 400-foot wallop into the left field upper deck. It was the 10th homer of the season for Dropo, who had been benched since July 7 for hitting failure. Zuverink allowed Nellie Fox a harmless single in the eighth.

Only two of Baltimore's five runs in the ninth were earned.

Lions Club Hands Exchangers 14th Loss In Row, 7-6

The Lions Club handed the Exchange Club its 14th consecutive defeat in the Hot Stove League last night, edging the cellarites at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 7-6.

Jim Stratton, who relieved Eddie Gaus in the 4th inning and received credit for the win, struck out nine batters in the last four innings. Seeders were tagged with the loss.

Gaus, Gary Davis, Ronnie Evans, Jerry Shook and "Bucky" Whiteman garnered two hits each for the Lions who amassed 11 safeties. Gaus rapped a pair of two-baggers and Davis batted in three runs.

Buccos Squeak Past Chicago In Ninth, 6-5

Score Four Runs In Final Stanza

PITTSBURGH, July 18 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates cashed in on one of their patented—but usually useless—ninth inning rallies today by scoring four runs to squeak past the Chicago Cubs 6-5.

Trailing 5-2 as the frame began, the Buccs picked up a run on two singles and a sacrifice fly, added two more on a walk and Dick Groat's triple and won on Bill Mazeroski's single after intentional walks to Bill Virdon and Frank Thomas had loaded the bases.

Ernie Banks and Chuck Tanner had contributed inside-the-park home runs earlier to enliven the Chicago second and eighth innings.

Yanks Sweep Detroit Series, 3-2, Lead By Five Games

Grim's Clutch Hurling Saves Champs In 8th

Comes To Rescue Of Cicotte; Billy Hoelt Is Victim

DETROIT, July 18 (AP)—Relief ace Bob Grim put down an eighth inning Detroit Tiger rally with a dazzling display of clutch pitching as the New York Yankees gained a 3-2 come-from-behind triumph over the Detroit Tigers today.

Yogi Berra and Hank Bauer delivered key hits in the Yankees' eighth inning when the defending world champions scored three times. The triumph, coupled with Chicago's 6-2 loss to Baltimore, enabled the Bombers to open up a five-game American League lead—their biggest of the season.

Making his 25th relief appearance, Grim took over in the eighth after the first two Tigers connected safely off Al Cicotte, the third Yankee pitcher. Al Kaline and Reno Bertoia worked a double steal to put runners on second and third with nobody out. But Grim persuaded Red Wilson to pop up, retired pinch hitter Dave Philley on a liner to third base and breezed a called third strike past Harvey Kuenn.

Detroit southpaw Billy Hoelt had a sparkling two-hitter going when the Yankees strung together three base hits and a walk for their eighth inning rally. Jerry Coleman started it with a one-out single and Mickey Mantle drew Hoelt's fourth base on balls.

Berra lashed a single to center scoring Coleman and the veteran Bauer clubbed the first pitch into right center for a double that scored Mantle and Berra.

Wildness was the downfall of New York starter Don Larsen. He yielded seven walks before he was routed in the sixth inning when the fifth-place Tigers scored their only two runs.

Don Engle pitched Barrelville to its 16th consecutive victory in the Pen-Mar Little League yesterday, turning back the LaVale Orioles with four hits and bagging his eighth consecutive victory by the score of 5-1.

The Orioles' lone tally was a homer by Teddy Bennett in the first inning.

The undefeated league leaders collected eight hits, including a triple and single by Aldridge and two-base wallops by Smith and Bridges. Roger James collected two hits for LaVale.

Cresaptown's Eagles took over third place by whipping the LaVale Maroons, 7 to 5. The teams were tied for third before yesterday's game.

Kermit Clem, who supplanted Wendt on the rubber in the third inning, received credit for the victory, his seventh against three losses.

Wendt blasted a homer, Ronnie and Jay Miller slammed triples and Clem hammered a two-bagger for the Eagles. Larry Snyder suffered his fifth loss against three wins.

Racking up 20 hits, Ellerslie walloped the D.A.V. by the score of 12-6.

George Conner stood out for the victors with three hits in three trips, including two home runs. Jimmy Klahre batted in three runs with a double and John Klahre rapped a triple. Joe Brewer came on in the final frame to quell a D.A.V. rally and save the win for Conner, his second against three setbacks. Shortstop Shreve of the D.A.V. homered in the sixth inning. Jan Withrow tossed a three-hitter and fanned six in shutting out the Red Sox. The Sox hit only one ball out of the infield, a two-bagger by Smith.

Gil Hodges' Twelfth Grand Slam Homer Ties Score In 9th

BROOKLYN, July 18 (AP)—Brooklyn dropped St. Louis into a second place tie in the wild National League race today by scoring an unearned run in the 11th inning on an error by rookie Eddie Kasko for a 10-9 victory.

Gil Hodges' 12th grand slam homer, tying the National League record, had tied the score for the Dodgers in the last of the ninth after St. Louis scored seven in the top of the same inning.

Duke Snider opened the Dodger 11th with a double to the center field fence. When Gino Cimoli sacrificed, pitcher Lloyd Merritt's throw went through Kasko, letting Snider score the winning run.

This was a run-of-the-mill game that erupted into a fantastic ninth inning in which the Cards scored seven runs and the Dodgers five.

Ten Cardinals went to bat in the ninth with pinch hitter Joe Cunningham getting two singles as the Birds overcame a 4-2 deficit to take the lead.

Back came the Dodgers with yesterday on the Rolling Mill Field.

Rich Smith (4-2) gave up but one hit as the Shoppers hammered opposing pitcher for 21 safeties.

Outfielder James Hamilton headed the winners with a homer, double and two singles; Junie Perry had a homer and double; Buddy Meade a double and single; Smith a double and single and Robert Harper two hits.

The win gave the Sports Shoppe a 12-2 record. St. Luke's has won one game and lost ten.

Snead And Ford, Co-Favorites, Win In PGA Tourney

SPORTS GRILL by Pat Robinson International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 18—(INS)—Ty Cobb, who probably is the wealthiest of all ball players as he undoubtedly was the greatest of them, always has been a keen observer of everything pertaining to the game.

Since Ty has made millions from his investments, it is safe to assume that he knows something about business, and we may take it for granted that he knows baseball from every angle.

Therefore, when such a man doubts the success of the Brooklyn Dodgers' contemplated shift of franchise to Los Angeles we must give weight to his judgment.

Ty recently touched on a point apparently overlooked by baseball operators in general, and that is the proximity of race tracks to baseball stadia in California.

Television has been blamed for a drop in baseball attendance, and the free look undoubtedly has hurt. But we think an even more painful blow has been struck by racing.

Racing is outdrawing baseball in New York despite the fact that two of New York's teams—the Yankees and Dodgers—are defending champions of their respective leagues.

It isn't that the races themselves are more attractive than a ball game but the chance to gamble — legally — is the lure. Nobody would spend $5 to see eight races spread half an hour apart if there were no betting.

But the gambling fever draws millions annually to the tracks—both trotting and running — and a great many of these millions can ill afford to drop the money they feed into the pari-mutuels.

Savings banks were the first to note what effect racing can have on a community through the heavy withdrawals made coincident with the start of the racing season.

We have no desire to preach a sermon on betting here. We merely wish to point out in agreement with Cobb that the fever for gambling does lure men and women to the tracks and that lure takes away thousands of customers from the ball parks.

Indeed, many racegoers bring their portable radios with them to the tracks so that they can listen to the ball games. You might call these birds misplaced ball fans.

Cobb also was quoted as saying that a winning club — but only a winning club — would do well for a while in Los Angeles, but that Los Angeles would not go for a loser just because it happened to bear a major league label.

There has been much talk about pay television, but we doubt that fans would want to pay to see a loser on the screen any more than they do in the ball park.

For our part, we don't care whether the Dodgers leave Brooklyn for Los Angeles, but we think the Dodger brass would be well advised to consider Cobb's warning about competition from racing in California.

Calhoun, Ballarin Fight At Syracuse

SYRACUSE, N.Y., July 18 (AP)—Rory Calhoun, White Plains, N.Y., middleweight, is a 3-5 favorite to whip Germal Ballarin, the Frenchman with the handlebar mustache, in tomorrow night's 10-round match at War Memorial Auditorium.

Calhoun's 23-fight winning streak was broken by Spider Webb late last summer and he lost his second to Joey Giardello on a split decision May 17. In his last outing, Calhoun went 10 rounds to a draw with Joey Giambra.

Ballarin has had only one fight in this country, a unanimous decision over Bob Provizzi of Freeport, Pa., in New York July 1. Before coming to America, Ballarin lost a decision to Charles Humez in Paris. His most important victory was scored over Kid Gavilan, former welter champ, in Paris early in 1956.

The Friday match gets the usual network (NBC) radio and television treatment, starting at 8 p.m. (EST).

Wigs were popular in Europe when Louis XIII began to grow bald and turned to elaborate wigs which were imitated by his followers.

Hoad Beaten By Rosewall In Pro Match

2,500 See Match, Gonzales Winner

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., July 18 (INS)—Australia's Kenny Rosewall handed Lew Hoad, his former Davis Cup sidekick, his first loss as a professional today when he upset the enigmatic $125,000 rookie 6-3, 9-7, 4-6, 6-3 at the Jack Kramer tournament of champions.

A crowd of 2,500 at the West Side Tennis Club saw the pint-sized Rosewall virtually duplicate his upset of the 22-year-old blonde bomber in the title round of the 1956 national championships when both were amateurs. It was the first loss for Hoad in three matches at the $10,000 round robin tourney. Rosewall evened up his own record at 2-2. Pro tennis king Pancho Gonzales lifted his spotless record to 3-0 by outlasting Australia's Frank Sedgman in a five set battle, 5-7, 7-5, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3. The grueling marathon required two and a half hours to play. Sedgman now is 1-2.

Giants Play Last Year At Polo Grounds

Stoneham Says Team Will Move

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK, July 18 (AP)—The New York Giants, at the end of this season, definitely will quit the Polo Grounds, most likely will move out of New York and probably will be in San Francisco next year, the Giants president, Horace Stoneham, said today.

"This is our last year at the Polo Grounds," Stoneham stated in a press conference in his Polo Grounds office after today's game with the Cincinnati Redlegs. "No matter where we go," he added, "I will recommend that to our board of directors."

The ruddy, silver-haired club owner flatly rejected any possibility of moving the Giants to Flushing Meadows, Queens, a site reportedly proposed by Park Commissioner Robert Moses and Trioro head George V. McLaughlin. He gave New York fans one slim ray of hope, however, by saying he might reconsider only if the city offered him a site of his choosing, namely the Baychester area near the Whitestone Bridge in the Bronx—but he said the city would have to build the park and he was sure it would not consent to do that.

Yankee Stadium was out, Stoneham said, because of the high rental—$600,000 a year—the Yankees reportedly have been asking.

Stoneham, whose family controls 51 per cent of the Giants' stock, said he felt certain the board of directors would agree with him.

Stoneham said he had received definite propositions from two cities—San Francisco and Minneapolis—and intimated that the California metropolis was his first choice.

"If we can get a satisfactory deal from San Francisco," he said, "I will recommend to the board that we move there."

Burning Tree is the course President Eisenhower plays. Bowers, of Landover, Md., scored his ace with a No. 3 iron on the par 3 11th. It was his first hole-in-one but he's still one up on Eisenhower, who has never accomplished that golfer's dream.

Bolt Tops Littler And Briggs, Feels He Can Take Title

By WILL GRIMSLEY

DAYTON, Ohio, July 18 (AP)—Co-favorites Sam Snead and Doug Ford slammed into the fourth round of the PGA Golf Tournament today but the loudest clap of thunder came from an explosive gentleman named Tommy Bolt.

Bolt fired a two-under-par 69 to eliminate Gene Littler in a morning match, 1 up, then turned his big guns on Eldon Briggs of Lansing, Mich., winning by the most one-sided margin of the tournament, 7 and 6.

The muscled, nut-brown pro from Los Angeles won six of the first nine holes from Briggs, five in succession, and closed out the match on the 12th. It was a quick comedown for the Michigan club professional, who had upset former National Open champion Jack Fleck in the second round.

Bolt, Mild, Chatty

Bolt, notorious for his club-throwing proclivities, was remarkably mild today, even chatty. After beating Littler, he told a friend: "Now I've got my practice rounds out of the way. I think I'll go out and win this thing."

Snead feasted on a pair of elderly gentlemen, beating 58-year-old Al Waltrous of Birmingham, Mich., 4 and 3, and then conquering 47-year-old John Thoren of South Hampton, Mass., after a mild scare, 3 and 2.

Toren held a two-stroke lead through the fifth but two-putted two straight greens.

Even going to the 14th, Snead won three holes in a row with birdie-birdie-par. He sank a 12-footer on the 14th, chipped with two feet of the pin on the 15th after pushing his drive into the crowd and then missed a birdie putt by a half-inch on the 16th.

Ford, the Masters champion, erased Jim Guinnup of Lafayette, Ind., 4 and 3, and then beat Bob Gajda of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., 3 and 2. The Mahopac, N.Y., pro, the year's leading money winner, never pushed.

Burke Eliminated

Today's double eliminations, which saw the ouster of defending champion Jack Burke Jr. in the morning, reduced the field to 16 players. Two more 18-hole rounds tomorrow will slice the list to four for Saturday's 36-hole semifinals. The title round will be played Sunday.

Burke, winner of both the Masters and PGA last year, lost to Milon Marusic of Webster Groves, Mo., 2 and 1, missing critical putts on the 16th and 17th holes.

Marusic survived the third round also, beating Mike Krak of Morgantown, W. Va., 2 and 1.

Other survivors included Dick Mayer of La Jolla, Calif., the National Open champion; Walter Burkemo of Franklin, Mich.; and Mike Souchak, former Duke University football player.

Finsterwald vs. Snead

Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., Snead's fourth round foe tomorrow, was forced to rally to beat Joe Kirkwood Jr., of Hollywood, Calif., and the movie "Joe Palooka," 2 and 1.

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK, July 18 (AP)—Caught short:

Jackie Burke has a lame wrist, Ed Furgol is suffering from an injured hip, Sam Snead has buritis in the left elbow. Sounds like the Monday morning report of a football coach after a tough Saturday game instead of the afflictions of entrants in the PGA tournament. And Chick Harbert is suffering from the after-effects of the whooping cough. Childish game, isn't it?

Fred Haney is hanged in effigy by some disgruntled Milwaukee Braves' fans who obviously think their club should be out in front by five or so games by now. Just about a year ago they were ready to give him the keys to the city, or a brewery. He succeeded Charley Grimm as manager June 16, 1956, and the Braves proceeded to win 11 straight games. When you figure the club is in the thick of the round-robin pennant fight while without the services of big Joe Adcock, it would seem it is doing pretty well.

The major league pitchers are not throwing aspirins, as they say this year; they're throwing headache pills. Can't remember when there's been such an epidemic of the high, inside pitching. When two players on the same day fail to duck in time, as happened Tuesday when Ray Boone of the Tigers and Frank Robinson of the Red Sox were wound up with their helmets shattered by pitched balls, the situation would seem to be getting out of control.

Whales have forelimbs resembling fins, but beneath the little how the old-timers, who smooth skin are bones typical of never heard of plastic helmets, the forelegs of mammals.

Mountaineer Turns Down Romney Offer

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., July 18 (AP)—Joe Kopnisky, star end on the West Virginia University football team the past two seasons, said today he had signed to play professionally with the Chicago Cardinals.

Kopnisky earlier had turned down an offer from the Cardinals when he was called in the annual football draft, saying at that time he was not interested in pro football.

It was learned that he also has turned down several high school coaching spots, including an offer only yesterday from Romney. He also was offered an assistant's post at Parkersburg High, and friends said there had been other offers from out of the state.

Kopnisky, from Pittsburgh, was chosen on the All-Southern Conference football team last fall.

Mounts Cancelled By Willie Hartack

CHICAGO, July 18 (INS)—Willie Hartack, America's leading jockey, pulled a back muscle while riding in the first race at Arlington Park today and cancelled his mounts for the rest of the day.

Hartack, who was spilled from a somersaulting horse last week, finished second atop Nardal in today's race despite the strained back.

On the advice of track physician Dr. Herman J. Carr, Hartack decided to sit out the remaining races. The doctor said the back injury was apparently not serious.

Coulon Still A Cutie At 68

BY EDWARD S. KITCH

CHICAGO (AP)—Fighters come and go, but oldtime fighter Johnny Coulon just keeps challenging along.

The former bantamweight king is a young 68, operates a gymnasium and fight club for amateurs and challenges all comers to lift him off his feet.

Coulon, who fought from 1905 to 1920, held the bantamweight title from 1910 to 1914. He defeated Jim Kendrick, the British champion, over 19 rounds at New Orleans in 1910 for the title at 116 pounds. The weight became the recognized scale for the division.

Coulon was kayoed June 9, 1914, at Vernon, Calif., in the third round and lost the championship to Kid Williams.

Lance, 16-1 Shot, Wins At 'Gansett

PAWTUCKET, R. I., July 18 (AP)—Lance, a 16 to 1 shot from the barn of True Davis Jr., today defeated My Dandy by a head to capture the $3,000 Esmond Purse over a mile and 70 yards at Narragansett Park.

Lance, a three-year-old son of Blenheim 2nd bred by his owner, led G. S. Colella's My Dandy to the finish in 1:45 2/5. He paid $35.80, $13.20 and $5.80 after his second victory in 10 starts this season.

My Dandy returned $6.40 and $3.80 after finishing three-quarters of a length in front of the favorite of the 9,494 patrons, J. H. Carr's Refrigerium. The latter paid $2.80 to show.

A spot behind the ear of a person who tries to lift him. He admits being lifted once, although not physically.

"I was on a train in 1921 after appearing at the Lucerne Opera House in Switzerland," says Coulon. "Someone suggested that a pretty mademoiselle try to lift me."

"She succeeded in lifting my pulse on the wrist and presses bankroll."

Two Forestry Camp Bids Are Received

Westernport Man Offers Low Price

R. L. Hamilton of Westernport was the apparent low bidder yesterday on construction of two Forestry Camps for Boys in near-by Garrett county.

Only two bids were received by the State Department of Public Improvements which announced that any bids received today and postmarked before 2:30 p. m. (EDT) yesterday will be considered.

The Westernport man bid $123,000 for the erection of three prefabricated metal buildings at each camp — one to be located near Lonaconing and the other at New Germany.

$105,450 Bid

He also submitted a bid of $105,450 for wood frame structures similar to Army barracks buildings. The only other bidder was Marshall Lumber Company of Lonaconing which bid $126,516 to construct metal buildings. The lumber firm did not bid on the frame structures.

Bids also were received yesterday on five alternates. The first alternate calls for elimination of the staff cottage. Without this building, Hamilton offered to construct the metal-type buildings for $97,120 and Marshall for $100,748.84.

With the second alternate, elimination of the staff cottage with the frame construction, Hamilton bid $81,580. Under the third alternate, metal construction eliminating the recreation area from the principal building, Hamilton bid $109,150 and Marshall $112,593.15. The fourth alternate, elimination of the recreation area from the frame construction, Hamilton bid a total of $96,570.

Wiring Changes

The final alternate concerned certain minor changes in the electrical wiring in the kitchen. With these alterations Hamilton bid $122,130 with the metal construction and $104,580 with the frame construction and Marshall bid $125,733.37 for the metal construction.

The General Construction Loan of 1956 provided by the General Assembly includes the appropriation of $89,000 for the construction of two forestry camps and $11,000 for their equipment. Only one of the alternates was within the $89,000 figure.

Graham Dukehart, office engineer for the Department of Public Improvements and Raymond Manella, chief of the Division of Training Schools of the Department of Public Welfare were among those present when the sealed bids were opened yesterday afternoon.

Each camp will accommodate 26 boys assigned from the Maryland Training School for Boys and Boys Village and the necessary supervisory personnel.

Eventually the camps will be composed of three basic buildings, first building containing the dining hall and kitchen, hobby room and recreation room and a small laundry. The second building will include a dormitory, toilet and shower rooms, counselor room and locker room.

The third building will be for staff, with living facilities for the supervisory and training personnel. As part of the training program, boys assigned to the camps will complete interior finish on floors, ceilings, shelving and walls and extend water and sanitary lines.

Yesterday's bids were referred to the State Department of Public Welfare for recommendation to the State Department of Public Improvements. Before a contract is awarded it must be approved by the Board of Public Works.

Rolling Mill Field Ready For Games

Plans to use the Rolling Mill field for ball games this summer were announced yesterday by Eugene Mason, recreation director.

He said Baltimore and Ohio Railroad officials have given the department permission to use the field until it is needed.

The field has been reactivated, Mr. Mason said, and is ready for use.

The playing field, he said, has been prepared for use by improvised equipment operated by maintenance men of the department and ball field leaders.

The equipment consisted of a length of fence wire, followed by a large rug, dragged from the back of a truck.

Mr. Mason said the gadget worked "wonderfully," as the wire dislodged small stones and tossed them back upon the rug.

Health Policies Hits New High In Maryland

Over 70 Per Cent Of Nation Is Protected

The number of people in Maryland who are covered by voluntary health insurance reached a new high by July 1, the Health Insurance Council announces. As of this date the council estimates that nearly 1,800,000 persons were protected by some form of insurance designed to help pay hospital and doctor bills.

This figure, the council said, is part of the continued growth of health insurance throughout the country, which was revealed last May in its 11th annual survey of the extent of voluntary health insurance coverage for 1956. The number of people covered by some form of health insurance in the nation today is more than 118 million, or over 70 per cent of the U. S. civilian population.

In releasing the findings of its survey, which is based on reports of insurance programs of insurance companies, Blue Cross-Blue Shield and other health care plans, the council went on to say that there were 1,746,000 persons covered by hospital expense insurance in Maryland as of December 31, 1956. The total for 1955 of the number of persons covered for expenses incurred while in the hospital was 1,682,000.

Surgical expense insurance, which helps to defray the cost of physicians' charges for operations rose to 1,164,000, as compared with 1,078,000 the year before.

Persons protected by regular medical expense insurance, providing for doctor visits for non-surgical care, numbered 592,000 in 1956, as against the previous year's figure of 490,000.

The Health Insurance Council, which is a federation of eight insurance associations representing over 90 per cent of the accident and health insurance business handled by insurance companies, stated that this growth reflects the desire of the people of Maryland to help protect themselves against the cost of accident and illness.

Girl Scout Camp Begins Second Session Sunday

The first phase of the camp, which got underway July 7 with 48 campers, will conclude this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A feature of the two-week camp will be the distribution of the first edition of this morning of the camp newspaper, Pioneer Press.

The staff includes Karen Holbrook and Regina Saliga, co-editors; Suzie Kilroy, Linda Caswell and Pam Wolfe, unit reporters; Regina Saliga, Mary Sue Leger, Evelyn Kooztz and Barbara Johnson, feature writers.

Counselors acting as advisors for the newspaper were Anne Leonard, Barbara Nichols and Mary Jane Howell.

The paper contains news of camp.

Public Purse Probe Asked By Rep. Hyde

Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde yesterday called for the establishment of a special House committee to study and make recommendations aimed at strengthening Congressional control over the public purse.

Mr. Hyde's request came in the form of a resolution introduced in the House of Representatives. The resolution calls for the establishment of a 10-man bipartisan select committee to make the probe.

Included in the group would be the chairman and ranking minority member of the House Appropriations committee.

The 6th District Congressman said the committee would be required to make a report on its findings to the full House of Representatives "as soon as practicable during the 85th Congress."

Protest Naval Office Closing

ANNAPOLIS, July 18 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin has "strongly protested" the contemplated closing of the Navy Ship Construction Office in Baltimore.

McKeldin is on a 4-week trip to Europe, but members of his staff said today they rushed a telegram to Thomas S. Gates Jr., secretary of the Navy, when it was learned Tuesday that the Navy is considering closing the Baltimore offices of supervisor of shipbuilding, naval inspector of ordnance and assistant industrial manager.

McKeldin's telegram to Gates said such a move "would be (a) blow to (the) prestige of (the) great port as we are launching new efforts to increase its recognition through new State authority." "(I) sincerely urge reconsideration of (the) move and retention of (the) naval offices here," the governor told Gates.

McKeldin also sent telegrams to Maryland's two senators and seven congressmen, urging them to protest and oppose the proposed move.

At a meeting of the Maryland congressional delegation with Gates yesterday, the Navy secretary said no definite decision on the proposal to close the office will be made for 60 days.

Reforestation Of Watershed Is Discussed

Program Scheduled Over 5-Year Period

A program of reforestation over a period of the next five years has been set up in connection with the forestry aspect of the Little Youghiogheny Watershed program which is now in progress in Garrett county.

William H. Johnson, district forester, who met during the past two days with Frank Paradise, watershed expert of the U. S. Forest Service, said yesterday that the tree planting project was discussed fully.

R. Thomas Thayer, assistant district forester who attended the meeting along with A. R. Bond, assistant forester in Annapolis, will endeavor to write management plans for all private timberland owners within the watershed, Mr. Johnson said.

They will be given recommendations for the handling of timber in order to secure the most efficient water holding capacity in the areas.

Mr. Johnson pointed out yesterday that this work will get under way as soon as possible and landowners will be asked to institute practices outlined in the management plan.

The district forester said he is available to supervise the marking of young stands for improvement and older stands for harvest.

Shorn Wool Offers 40 Per Cent Return

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced that shorn wool payments under the 1956 Wool Incentive Program will amount to 40 per cent of the dollar returns each producer received from the sale of shorn wool during the 1956 marketing year.

Leonard C. Burns, chairman of the Maryland Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said this will result in an incentive payment of $40 for every $100 received from the sale of shorn wool.

The USDA also announces the payment rate on sales of unshorn lambs to compensate for the wool on them will be 71 cents per hundredweight of live animals sold. This payment is designed to discourage unusual shearing of lambs before marketing.

Probe Of Weishaar Death Is Started

Officials in the State's Attorney's office yesterday said they have begun a routine investigation into the death of Earl S. Weishaar, 50, of Frostburg, who died yesterday morning in Miners Hospital there of injuries sustained in an automobile accident on Tuesday.

Witnesses to the collision which involved Weishaar's car, another automobile and a tractor-trailer truck at Clarysville, will be questioned, Edwin R. Lilya, county investigator, stated.

City Retains Lawyer To Aid In Damage Trial

Officials Inspect Area Involved

Mayor Roy W. Eves said yesterday the City of Cumberland has retained a Baltimore attorney to assist City Attorney Thomas B. Finan in fighting a damage suit brought against the city and the B&O Railroad as a result of damage to merchandise following heavy rains about three years ago.

Assisting Mr. Finan will be Benjamin Howard, of the law firm of Miles, Walsh and Stockbridge.

He is being retained as a result of an agreement reached at a pre-council meeting Monday morning.

Mr. Howard yesterday accompanied Mr. Finan and C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, on an inspection tour of the area involved in the case.

Suits totaling $150,000 were filed against the city and B&O recently in the Allegany County Circuit Court and the United States District Court of Maryland in Baltimore.

The Cumberland Undergarment Company, Inc., filed a $10,000 suit against the two parties in the Circuit Court here on June 22.

At the same time, a $150,000 suit was docketed in the Federal court by Monterey Undergarment, Inc., of New York. Both declarations were filed by Clarence Lippel, local attorney.

Merchandise in the local factory was damaged by water on June 15 and 16 three years ago following extremely heavy downpours.

WVU Dean Cites Need For Fitness

The importance of physical fitness for all people, not just the athletic experts, was emphasized here yesterday by Ray O. Duncan, dean of the School of Physical Education and Athletics at West Virginia University.

Mr. Duncan was the speaker at yesterday's luncheon meeting of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club at Central YMCA.

Last year, the West Virginia dean attended a conference in Annapolis called by President Eisenhower's physical fitness committee to emphasize the importance of physical education for the masses.

He was informed at the Annapolis conference that in virtually all countries the physical condition of the masses is better than in this country. Here a few experts can excel the best in all other countries but the masses are not engaged in active physical activity.

To illustrate his point, Mr. Duncan used the case of a hypothetical speech class. All 500 students in this imaginary high school "went out" for the speech class with a promise that the five or ten who proved most outstanding would be developed to the point where they could compete with the best in the state and nation. The other 490 or so would have to shift for themselves and learn speech techniques wherever they could find them.

He agreed that was a ridiculous attitude but he said too many people look on sports in that same way. They love to be in the crowd of 75,000 watching 22 young men play football, but they don't want to do any physical activities themselves.

Many Prizes On Hand For Fish Rodeo

Free Milk Donated By Area Dairies

The City Recreation Department will award more than 50 major prizes in the annual fishing rodeo to be held tomorrow at Oldtown.

In addition to these prizes, which are valued up to $15, there are hundreds of token prizes on hand, so that each successful angler will be sure of a gift.

Mrs. Eva Hogan, assistant recreation director, said the prizes were donated by merchants.

There will also be milk for all children who attend the amateur fishing contest.

Each area dairy, Mrs. Hogan said, is donating from 10 to 12 cases of milk for the outing.

Chief Judge George Henderson who has displayed a keen interest in all past fishing rodeos, will speak to the children during the event.

Eugene Mason, city recreation director, will present the prizes.

Many of the children attending the rodeo which opens at 11 a. m. Saturday will come as groups.

The groups will include up to 700 children from the city playgrounds.

Boy and Girl Scouts and crippled children will also attend as units.

Mr. Mason said playground children will go in five buses and private cars.

The contest, sponsored by the Cumberland Outdoor Club, the Oldtown Sportsmen Club and the Recreation Department, is open to all youngsters of the area between 7 and 17.

U. Of Md. Gets Nuclear Physics Research Job

A contract of $250,180 has been awarded to the University of Maryland department of physics by the Atomic Energy Commission for a combined experimental and theoretical research program in nuclear physics.

The basic research tool for the program will be a three million volt Van de Graaff Accelerator. The accelerator will produce a beam of high velocity helium 3 nuclei, a light weight isotope of helium. Helium 3 has recently been made available in large quantities by the Isotope Division of the AEC.

This projectile is used because it produces states of high excitation when it reacts with most nuclei, and an analysis of experimental data will enable the physicists to determine the character and structure of the energy levels of these nuclei.

According to Dr. William F. Hornyak, associate professor of physics, and director of the research program, the aim of these investigations will be to understand the collective forces that come into play when many fundamental particles (the smallest sub-divisions of matter) are forced to interact within the extremely small confinement of the atomic nucleus.

Fisherman's Car Reported Stolen

John H. Getz, RD 3, Bedford, Pa., reported yesterday evening to Pennsylvania State Police that his car was stolen while he was fishing at Lake Gordon.

The vehicle, a 1951, four-door sedan, had been parked near the lake about 4 p. m. Getz discovered it was missing about 6 o'clock, police said.

DARRELL L. HENRY

Scholarship Is Awarded Local Youth

State Senator Charles M. See has announced the appointment of a local youth to a state senatorial scholarship at St. John's College.

The recipient, Darrell L. Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Henry, 13 Boone Street, is a 1957 graduate of Fort Hill High School.

While at Fort Hill he was a member of the school octet, choir, glee club and school quartet. He also has been active in civic singing groups.

He was a member of the National Honor Society, Hi-Y Club and participated in the All State Chorus in Baltimore for three years. He also took part this year in the All-Eastern States Chorus in Atlantic City, N. J.

The Henry youth also was active in dramatics and had a leading part in the senior class play. At graduation he received an award from the Music and Art Club for having spent the most time in music activities during his high school career.

He plans to get his liberal arts degree at St. John's College and later hopes to enter the field of engineering.

Sen. See said the appointment was based on Henry's scholastic record and competitive examination given by the Allegany County Board of Education.

Search Fails To Find Man

ANNAPOLIS, July 18 (AP)—A search force today scoured the woods where Mrs. Margaret V. Harold was slain without finding a man who had been reported lurking there.

The search was called off by Wilbur C. Wade, Anne Arundel County police chief, at 5 p. m.

For 7½ hours, 100 officers and volunteers plowed through the underbrush on foot and horseback. The search was organized after construction workers reported that a man generally fitting the description of the man sought for the killing had ducked into woods to avoid them.

Mrs. Harold, 36-year-old mother of two, was shot to death June 26 as she sat in a car at the end of a lonely lane with Master Sgt. Roy D. Hudson of Ft. Meade. Mrs. Harold worked as a clerk at the military reservation.

Hudson told police she was killed by a bushy-browed, unkempt man who forced his way into their car.

A hitchhiker was picked up by today's search party but he turned out to be a man, arrested shortly after the slaying while hitchhiking in the opposite direction. He was cleared by Sgt. Hudson then.

Wade said the construction workers would meet him to determine if he is the man they saw duck into the woods today.

Phone Company To Inaugurate New Protection

New System Will Help Cables

Beginning today the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company will inaugurate a new system of cable protection in Cumberland, Robert G. Garner, manager of the local office, said yesterday.

Mr. Garner said that through the use of a compressor dehydrator unit, air will be dried, compressed and induced into the underground cables that serve the city.

The chief purpose for this operation Mr. Garner said, is to keep the cables free from moisture, one of the main sources of trouble in this area.

Work on the project was supervised under the direction of C. R. F. Alter, construction foreman supervisor. Cumberland is the second office in the state to have this protection, the other one being the main office in Baltimore.

Contact alarms will be placed at the ends of each cable, Mr. Alter stated, and will be tested regularly to detect any decrease in air pressure.

Flowmeters are being installed in the Centre Street office to indicate the amount of air that each cable is using. These two controls will permit the telephone people to locate and repair possible failures before service is interrupted because of moisture in the cables.

Work has been in progress for about six weeks Mr. Garner said, and will cost about $22,000. The company plans to have all cables in Cumberland, both underground and aerial, working under this system by the end of this year.

Four Juveniles Held In County Detention Home

Two boys, 14 and 16 years old, and two girls, also 14 and 16, are being held in detention at the Allegany County Infirmary after being picked up by authorities as runaways.

Magistrate Fred H. Anderson of Juvenile Court said last night all are involved in separate cases and that two of them had received hearings yesterday in Juvenile Court. The other two will be given hearings soon, he added.

One 14-year-old girl was picked up after being reported missing from her home. She has been involved in numerous other reports to authorities who are investigating. She will be given a hearing before Magistrate Anderson next week.

The second girl, 16, recently paroled from Rosewood Training School for Girls, was placed in a foster home here and ran away. She was picked up with another former inmate of the training school in New Jersey and returned to Cumberland by sheriff's deputies.

Magistrate Anderson said he started the older girl's hearing yesterday and suspended the proceedings until the court can get in touch with her mother who resides elsewhere in Maryland.

The youngest boy ran away from his home here and went to North Carolina. He was picked up by local authorities after he returned and will be given a hearing in Juvenile Court next week.

The 16-year-old youth left home recently with the family car and went to Virginia with another boy. When they ran out of gas they attempted to siphon gasoline from another car and were caught by Virginia authorities and returned here.

Magistrate Anderson tried the older boy yesterday and placed him on strict probation for one year, ordering him not to drive an automobile during that time and to attend church and school regularly. He will be released in the custody of his mother, the magistrate said.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Collins, Pittsburgh, Pa., announce the birth of a son there yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Furlow, 9 Oak Street, are the maternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. John Collins, 413 Beall Street, are the paternal grandparents.

Memorial Hospital

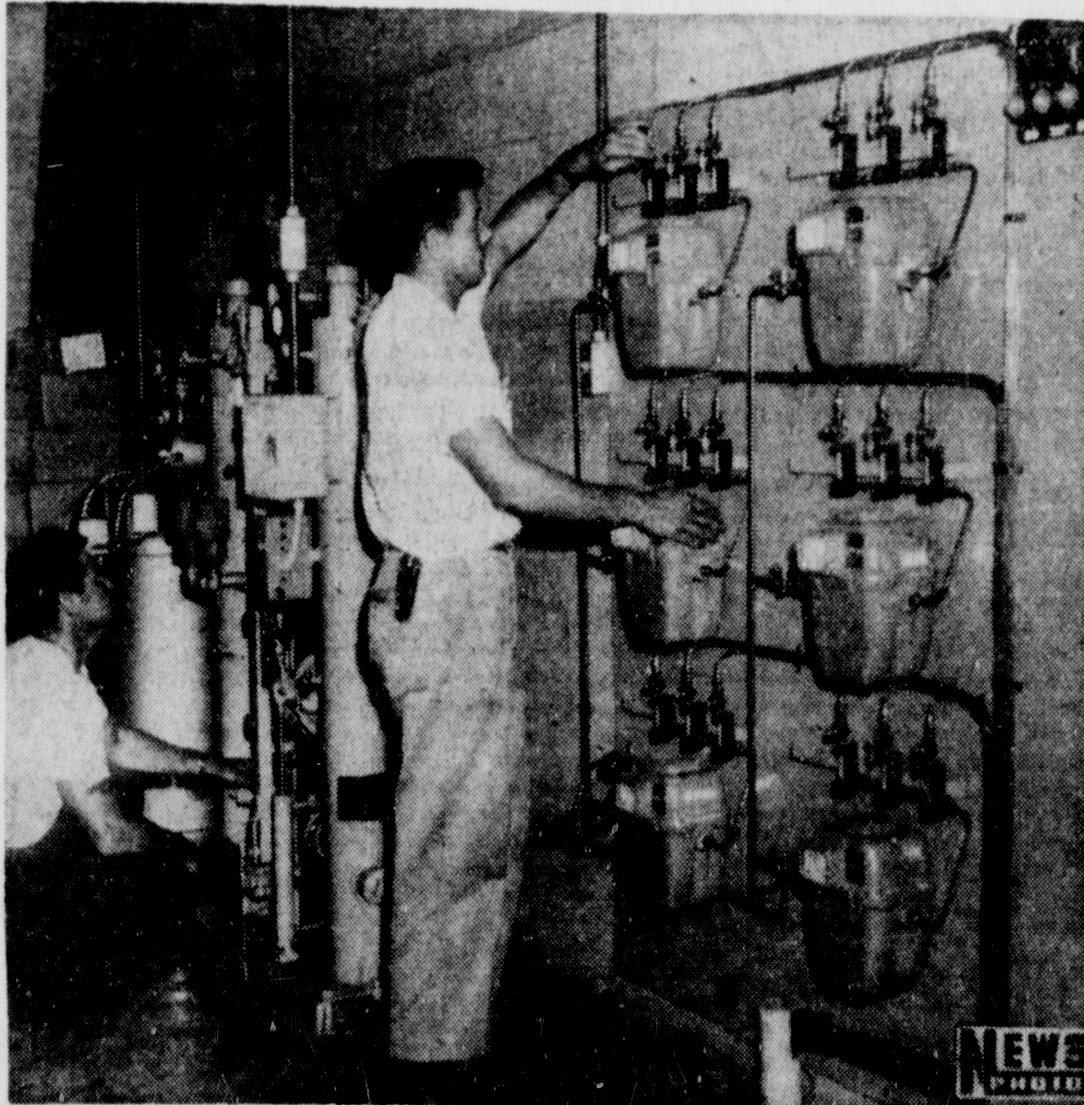

Mr. and Mrs. James Rook, Oakland, a son yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Pryor, Eckhart, a daughter yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. William M. Devens, Westernport, a son yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian F. Schontz, Sharon, Pa., a son yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Van Meter, RFD 4, city, a daughter yesterday.

Released From Jail

Fred Hall, RFD 2, Flintstone, who was committed to Allegany County Jail in default of a $25 fine on a motor vehicle charge, yesterday paid his fine and was released, officials said.

Installing New Cable Equipment

D. A. Shafer, left, and D. C. Lehman are shown putting the finishing touches on the new cable equipment at the local office of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company. The new gear which will cost about $22,000 will protect underground cables from moisture by inducing dry compressed air into the cables that serve the city. Robert G. Garner, local manager, said the new equipment will be put into use today.
